Race Rioting Breaks Out in Michigan City

By KEN SINER

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Classes resumed peacefully at police-guarded Parkside High School today after troubles Wednesday during which stones were flung at police and nearly a score of white and Negro youths were taken into custody.

Fifteen policemen, in contrast to the customary one officer, were stationed in the immediate area of the newly opened $3 million school.

After a few uneasy moments in a crowded hallway of the school, all students went to their rooms without incident.

A Negro girl walked into a crowd of Negro students blocking the hall and told them to go to their home rooms. Most did so promptly. A few stayed to jeer the others but then also went to their rooms.

Negro teen-agers threw stones at police Wednesday after an incident in the school parking lot. Some shouted references to "Alabama." Wednesday night police broke up a crowd of 100 to 150 Negro adults who had massed at a residential street corner.

Principal George Kiesel indicated he felt the racial troubles in Birmingham, including Sunday's church bombing in which four children were killed, contributed to unrest here.

Parkside had 205 absentees today, compared to an 86 daily average. Kiesel said the absences were hardly noticeable.

Ten students, including a white girl, were arrested after the hour-long disturbance Wednesday afternoon. Seven white youths were picked up later and released after

3 Charged With Conspiracy

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Asst. U.S. Atty. Charles B. Mott Jr., said Wednesday that charges of conspiring to obtain money by false pretenses through the use of the mails had been filed against three North Little Rock insurance men.

Mott said the men were E. A. Bihomey, 37; J. G. Bradley, 26; and E. P. Wade, 25.

He said the men surrendered more than 30 life insurance policies for their cash value—all of $1,000 or less—without the knowledge or consent of the policyholders, who continued to pay premiums.

Probe Into Wreck That Killed 28

SALINAS, Calif. (AP)—Mounting investigations and outcries over Tuesday's railroad crossing crash which killed 28 Mexican migrant workers raised a question mark today over the status of the nation's bracero program.

As probes were pushed on both federal and state levels, Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., called for defeat of a pending bill which would extend for one year the right to import Mexican laborers, or braceros, to do farm work.

"My witnesses are the dead and maimed," he said.

At Boulder, Colo., the migrant committee of the National Council of Churches said the crash, in which a freight train demolished a makeshift bus carrying 62 workers, underscored the need for more protective legislation.

"Such an appalling accident," which occurs in every harvest season, should cause every American to take to heart the plight of one million migratory farm workers," stated a resolution passed by the committee.

Six of the more than 30 injured in California's worst vehicular accident in history remained near death.

Francisco Espinosa, 34, driver of the bus which was carried a half mile down the track while bodies tumbled on both sides, was in jail on felony manslaughter charges.

Federal and state investigators planned to question him further as to why, after stopping, he started across the tracks near Chualar eight miles south of Salinas, as the three-diesel freight moved down on the crossing.

More Help for Goldwater

LACONIA, N.H. (AP)—The Laconia Citizen said today that Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., and Mrs. Dolores Bridges will be co-chairmen of the Goldwater for President campaign New Hampshire.

Mrs. Bridges, widow of Sen. Styles Bridges, sought unsuccessfully in the 1962 elections to fill the unexpired years of his Senate term.

Employees of Most Firms of Today Spend Much Time in Borrowing From Each Other

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The average business office today is a pawnshop without the usual gilt three-ball sign.

"Neither a borrower nor a lender be," wrote Shakespeare, a bit of advice from the bard that is honored more in neglect than in observance.

The employees of most firms spend at least part of the working day borrowing from each other, and the custom has many social as well as financial advantages.

It helps them to pass the time, it improves their arithmetic, it enables them to find out who their real friends are (if any), and it keeps alive some wastrels who might otherwise starve between paydays.

While office borrowing isn't universal, it is practically so. A crisp new $5 bill, loaned to one person in the morning, may travel briefly through half a dozen pockets before nightfall—as it is borrowed and reborrowed. Sometimes it even winds up in the same pocket from which its journey started.

If you look around your own office, you may find the following types of white collar borrowers familiar

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today he does not think that sending federal troops to Birmingham would solve the racial crisis there.

"We're not going to get the answer to this problem with bayonets," Kennedy said on the National Broadcasting Company's television show "Today."

"For Washington to step in and say, 'Everyone's going to get along or we'll prick you with a bayonet,' would not erase the antagonism between the races," the attorney general added.

The answer, in the last analysis, rests in the local community and in the hearts of people, Kennedy said.

The Negro has been subjected to injustices for many decades and wants to be heard, Kennedy continued. He said he thought progress would be made if the white community would take the attitude of "maybe we'll disagree, but at least we can discuss these grievances."

Says State Hasn't Lost on Industry

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Wednesday that Arkansas has not lost a cent in aiding new industries through indirect financing since the start of the industrial program in 1955.

When it started, he said, fiscal experts predicted the state stood to lose 10 to 20 per cent of its investment.

Faubus said he lacked exact figures on the ratio of failing plants to those located in the state since the origin of the industrial program.

"But I recall on the basis of previous conferences that the number is far less than anticipated," he said.

"So far we haven't lost a dime, a penny though a couple of plants were in serious difficulties," he said.

Faubus said each industry's troubles were solved as new industries took over the failing operations.

The governor said he was unaware of the troubles of the latest firm to experience financial difficulty—Scott Valve Co. of Blytheville, which filed a plan of financing in federal district court at Little Rock Tuesday. The firm said it could not continue to operate without financial help.

More Troops to Camp Chaffee

FT. CHAFFEE, Ark. (AP)—Fort Chaffee headquarters announced today that the 590th Signal Co., with 200 officers and men will be reassigned from Europe to Ft. Chaffee.

The Army said the reassignment was a continuation of a routine readjustment in worldwide redeployment of non-combat units begun in 1962.

"The competitor" — If he sees you lend $3 to someone, he immediately asks you for $6 — because he can't stand to see anybody else get ahead of him at anything.

"The tragedian" — Before he makes his touch, he breaks your heart with a tale of woe. "All I want is carfare and enough to buy one red rose," he weeps. "My daughter is having her adenoids out, and I want to visit her in the hospital."

"The grand evader" — "Don't bother me with trifles," he says loftily when you ask him humbly for the $25 he has owed you since Christmas. "I'm working on a deal now that'll make us both rich."

"The compulsive wheedler" — If you don't have any ready cash, he'll borrow anything else you have. It's a matter of pride with this guy never to go away empty handed.

"The hypochondriac" — You can keep your money. It's your medicine this fellow wants.

"The pyramid artist" — On payday he pays you the $5 he borrowed, and the next day he borrows $10. He keeps building up his debt this way until, when he is fired at the end of the year, he leaves with you holding the sack for $10.

Inflation Plagues All of Brazil

By EDGAR MILLER

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Luis Prestes Pinheiro, an accountant, stopped at a fish market to buy some shrimp.

The price was 800 cruzeiros a kilogram—2.2 pounds. He found he had left his wallet at home and went back to get some money.

To Pinheiro and millions of other Brazilians inflation is a nightmarish spiral of increasing prices which make it more and more difficult to make ends meet on outdistanced salaries.

Living costs shot up 30.8 per cent in the first half of the year after rising 52.7 per cent in 1962, one of Brazil's worst inflation years. They are still going.

Heaping woe on the economic picture was a report from the semi-official Getulio Vargas Foundation that economic growth this year would be only 2.4 per cent while the population would increase 3.1 per cent. Population increasing faster than the national production spells trouble.

Brazil's budget deficit is expected to be from 600 billion to a trillion cruzeiros.

The cruzeiro, Brazil's monetary unit, smashed the 1,000 cruzeiros to the dollar barrier for the first time this month.

Brazil has a $25.5 million debt coming due in the United States next month and about $176 million in commercial bills coming up before the end of the year.

Except for a few preliminary measures, the ambitious three-year plan to slow up inflation and stabilize the economy never got off the ground. Finance Minister Carlos Carvalho Pinto insists, however, that he still is working vigorously within the general framework of the plan in an effort to make some order in Brazil's feezy financial-economic household.

Carvalho Pinto is confident the government can increase its revenue through tax reforms and other measures he has instituted.

How well Brazil fills up its foreign debt holes and withstands snowballing inflationary pressure could be decisive for the nation's economic future.

As one foreign observer put it, "Brazil still is some distance from true economic chaos. But the distance is getting shorter every day."

Rules Firm Has No Violation

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—U.S. District Judge Gordon E. Young ruled Wednesday that Dixie Furniture Co., which operates furniture stores in East Arkansas, had not violated federal interstate wage and hour laws.

The Labor Department contended the firm had certain laborers working in interstate commerce and subject to the wage and hour provisions. Young ruled the firm was not subject to the laws.

Nevada Co. Votes Friday on Building

Nevada County will hold a special election Friday, Sept. 20 to decide a 1½ mill tax to help finance construction of a new courthouse.

A federal grant under the Community Facilities Act approved a $159,500 for the proposed new courthouse. This must be matched by the county, to be raised through the 1½ mill tax.

Nevada County's courthouse has been declared a hazard to the public health and safety by the State Health Dept. engineers. At the August session of the Nevada County Grand Jury the group instructed Judge Mack Hillery to call a special election.

Citing the critical need for a new courthouse Judge Hillery urged all Nevada County residents to turn out and vote in Friday's election.

Woman Drowns in White River

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Charles Ballard, 27, of Locust Grove, drowned in the White River Wednesday while fishing with her husband about 11 miles west of Batesville.

Coroner John Davies said an autopsy would be performed in Little Rock at the request of the victim's family.

Ballard said he had gone to Locust Grove to get some snells to shoot squirrels, and when he returned to the river he could not find his wife. The body was found about 60 yards downstream from where she was last seen Ballard said.

She had been fishing from the river bank.

Big Turnout for First PTA Meet

Some 112 persons attended the Jr.-Sr. P.T.A. meeting at the Junior High auditorium Tuesday and heard Jack Bealy, Principal, discuss a new system of grading on the percentile, rather than percentage.

Parents wishing to know more about this system are urged to inquire at the school. At the executive meeting Jack Gardner, president, outlined plans for the year.

Plans were made to sell 1000 memberships this year and not engage in any type fund raising campaign to operate the P.T.A., since this many memberships would easily provide the necessary funds. Membership is 50c per parent.

President Asks Public Support for Tax Cut

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has urged the people to speak up in support of his tax reduction program. He said its benefits would range from new washing machines for families to new strength around the world for the American dollar and freedom.

"But that bill is in danger of being weakened or deferred," declared Kennedy. "It needs your help, your voice."

Thus through a national radio and television speech, the President sought to light a grassroots fire under Congress on behalf of the $11-billion tax reduction — which he called the most important domestic economic measure in 15 years.

The first major hurdle will come next Wednesday when the House is expected to vote on the tax program. But Kennedy was also looking toward the Senate where the bill faces a stormy time.

Kennedy directed his appeal all along the economic front, from businessmen to factory workers, from families watching their own shaky budgets to citizens worried over the government's unbalanced budget.

He asked for quick passage of the bill without a proposed Republican amendment tying tax cuts to curbs on spending.

Almost as soon as Kennedy finished his address, William E. Miller, Republican national chairman, fired off telegrams to the networks asking equal time to reply to the President.

Retorting to GOP charges of fiscal recklessness, Kennedy said: "No wasteful, inefficient or unnecessary government activity will be tolerated on the grounds that it helps employment. We are pledged to a course of true fiscal responsibility, leading to a balanced budget."

Much of his appeal was directed to people like the $8,000-a-year family whose prospective benefits he singled out as an example. The head of such a household, he said,

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today proposed an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament during the first quarter of 1964.

The proposal was made by the Soviet leader in a major policy declaration before the U.N. General Assembly. President Kennedy will give the U.S. policy statement Friday.

Gromyko asserted that the assembly session was opening in a more favorable atmosphere this year as a result of recent developments, including the signing of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

2 Arkansans Are Held in Indiana

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Clarksville Police Chief Joe Bock said Elaine Young, 40, and Becky Stanley, 37, of Torre Haute, Ind., were held Wednesday night in the Johnson County jail after a man told authorities they took $100 from him in a "faith healing" scheme.

Bock said A. D. Hoskins, 82, of Salus, 22 miles north of Clarksville, told him the women drove to his house, said they were faith healers, and asked for all his money, which they said they would put in a sock.

Bock said Hoskins told him the women handed the sock over to him, which he put inside his shirt at their request. They told him to wait three days before opening the sock and all his ailments would be cured, Hoskins told Bock.

After rounding the house once, Hoskins noted the women had gone, looked in the sock, and found only paper. He notified Newton County Sheriff Guy Bennett, who notified Bock at Clarksville in Johnson County. Salus is on the line between the two counties.

The women were arrested when they entered Clarksville and had $500 with them, Bock said. Newton County authorities were to pick them up today, Bock said. He said the women admitted taking the money.

Perrytown Decision Is Delayed

A hearing on a petition for permission to file articles incorporation to establish a new town to be called Perrytown, Ark., some three miles east of Hope on Highway 67, was continued until next Thursday at 9 a.m. by Judge Orie O. Byers.

The petition was filed by E. C. Martin, acting as agent for some property owners in the area which would incorporate 2,222 acres into the town. One of the main backers is Perry Campbell, truck stop and motel operator, for which the town would be named.

A second petition was filed with the County Court by property owners in the area who oppose the incorporation. The opposition was led by Delight Egg Farms which has extensive poultry operations in the area and other landowners.

Judge Byers ended this morning's hearing by delaying his decision. He instructed petitioners for the incorporation to replat Perrytown, leaving out all the property owned by those in opposition.

Vitamin pills were designed to make people feel strong enough to sit and wait in the doctor's office all afternoon.

Dr. Lester M. Sitzes, Hope, has been named secretary-treasurer of the Southwest Arkansas Dental Association.

Floods Follow Two Feet of Rainfall

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Dying hurricane Cindy, stalled over this southeast Texas industrial area, set off cloudbursts that measured almost two feet today.

Widespread flooding sent hundreds of persons fleeing their homes to higher ground, many of them rescued by trucks and boats.

Cindy struck the Texas coast coast with winds up to 80 miles an hour Tuesday but almost immediately lost its force. It was centered north of Houston today, retaining no damaging winds but dumping massive rainfall.

Deweyville, Tex., north of Orange, reported 22.76 inches of rain by late morning.

Latest reports showed Orange with 18 inches and Beaumont with 15.

Torrents also poured down on the southwest corner of Louisiana tapering into steady, soaking rains.

"Cindy is decaying slowly due to a large portion of the circulation still over the Gulf of Mexico," said a Weather Bureau advisory. The bureau predicted the hurricane — now reduced to the status of a tropical storm—would ease northward at 5 m.p.h. or less.

All Beaumont schools opened to house flood refugees.

Water lapped into many Beaumont stores and homes, and each passing rescue truck set up waves which caused more water damage.

Big trucks rolled through water up to their radiator caps to move 325 persons to higher ground from Beaumont's West Side during the night.

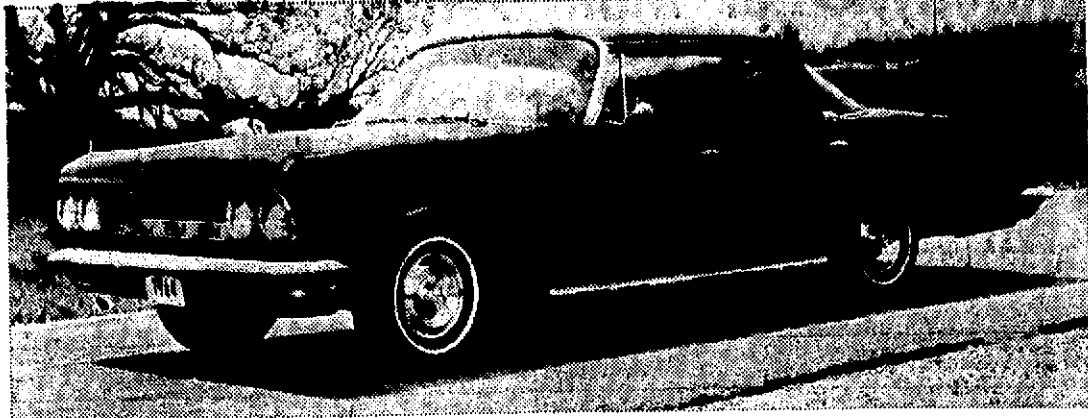

An Air Force truck carried six families menaced by rising waters from their homes in the Green Acres and Fannett communities near Port Arthur.

The Red Cross and Civil Defense workers reported 100 persons evacuated from homes in Orange County, just east of here. Orange is the county seat.

J. Cullen Browning, editor of Orange Leader, said the county was converted into "virtually an inland sea."

Pat Worlman, Red Cross disaster chairman, said flooding occurred in all parts of Beaumont, a city of 120,000.

About 3,600 persons fled their homes in Texas before Cindy hit and 10,000 were warned to flee in Louisiana. Less than an hour later, Civil Defense officials said the main blows of Cindy were over could look to the tax cut for for enough extra take home pay to meet "the installments on a new dishwasher for his wife."

Other families, he went on, might prefer to use theirs on "a new spring wardrobe, or a washing machine, or a longer vacation trip, or a down payment on a new car or a new home." And he said the demand so created would help the country "skip a recession" and provide the 10 million jobs needed in the next 2½ years.

Kennedy obviously was looking for some help from Republicans, too.

He said:

"This is not a question of party—it is a question of jobs and growth. It is a question of whether our taxpayers and businessmen and workers will get the break they deserve. As the Congress prepares to vote on this issue, I strongly urge you to support this bill for your family's sake and for your country's sake."

Several waterspouts — seagoing tornadoes — were sighted later in the day in the hurricane area but caused no known damage.

Two small children, Linda and Jesse Gregg, 12 and 10 years old, were missing for a time during the night after they rode their bicycles to a store. They later were found safe under a bridge.

questioning. Four policemen were assaulted by a mob of Negro students which also hurled rocks at the patrolmen and at passing cars. Police Chief Roscoe Gray, who said his "show of force didn't work," dispersed about 18 Negro youths at one point with a fire extinguisher.

The president of the Jackson chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Harold White, asked Gov. George Romney to investigate.

Dr. Elven Duvall, Jackson school superintendent, planned to appeal to the students in an assembly for an end to the incidents and tension.

The school is located on the southwest side of Jackson, a Southern Michigan city of 56,000.

After classes ended Wednesday several hundred students—mostly Negroes—gathered in the parking lot. About six Negro and white girls began shoving each other, witnesses said.

Some 200 Negroes began walking away from the lot, some of them throwing rocks at passing cars and at homes. Others shouted, "This isn't Alabama."

Police said the stones were hurled at them when they tried to disperse the mob. None of the officers reported being hit by the rocks.

The nine Negroes and one white student arrested were released to their parents. They were charged with disorderly conduct and ordered to appear in Juvenile Court.

Parkside High School opened for the first time Sept. 4. Its enrollment of 1,500 students was about evenly divided between whites and Negroes, officials said.

Prints Contracts Opening Friday

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Bids on 69 state printing contracts worth some $2 million over a two-year period will be opened Friday by the secretary of state's office.

Up to 700 bids on the contracts are expected to be in hand when the opening begins at 11 a.m., Secretary of State Kelly Bryant said Wednesday.

Bryant said 33 firms had already picked up bid specifications, some of them getting the data on all 69 contracts.

The contracts take effect Jan. 1, 1964.

The largest contracts are No. 40 which covers office supplies and blank paper, and No. 14, for miscellaneous forms such as drivers licenses and vehicle licenses.

Some of the contracts were rewritten after state Auditor Jimmie Jones objected earlier this year that they were confusing. The revision delayed the bid opening.

Dr. Jaroslav Kremel, 37, is being aided by the International Rescue Committee in seeking asylum here.

A spokesman for the committee said he believed there was little question that asylum would be granted.

Kremel, who has a wife and 2-year-old daughter in Czechoslovakia, said he fully expected to return home when he arrived in New York last Thursday in a group of 25 medical men.

But, he said, he saw that here the "people do live in such a free atmosphere as the majority of the Czechoslovak people can no longer imagine." He said "spiritual terror reaches into all areas of public and private life" in his homeland.

Dr. Kremel was chief anesthesiologist at the Vitkovice Iron Works hospital in Ostrava. He said the tour of the medical men was the first since the 1948 Communist takeover in Czechoslovakia. The group has visited Washington and is visiting Chicago today.

Youths Whipped for Wrong Deeds

RICHTMOND, Va. (AP)—Five teen-aged boys, charged with breaking and entering and vandalism, got stout belt whippings from their parents Wednesday at a judge's strong suggestion.

One at a time, the boys bent over a radiator in a cell block at the Henrico County Jail while the three fathers and two mothers swung the belts.

County Juvenile Judge S.T. Binns Jr. suggested the approximately 20 strokes each for the boys, aged 15 to 18, as an alternative to a correctional school sentence, a policeman said.

Kennedy to Meet Negro Leaders

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy meets today with the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and six other Negro leaders to discuss the simmering racial situation in Birmingham, Ala.

On Monday, five of the Negroes

called on Kennedy to send federal troops to Birmingham to control "civil disorder."

Long weeks of racial tension in the Alabama steel city reached a climax Sunday when a bomb was tossed into a Negro church, killing four children and injuring 23 others. In later incidents the same day, two Negro youths were killed.

In advance of Kennedy's late afternoon meeting with the Negro leaders, many civil rights leaders across the nation called for recognition of next Sunday as a day of national mourning for victims of the Birmingham church bombing.

A bipartisan group of senators, headed by Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader, has introduced a resolution calling on Kennedy to proclaim Sunday "a day of national observance in memory of these children and a day of dedication in the nation to the principles of law, equality and tolerance."

The situation in Birmingham brought a call Wednesday from Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, for the federal government to "cut off every nickel and every dime

going into Alabama."

Wilkins told a news conference here that President Kennedy should start by "closing down Maxwell Air Force Base at Montgomery immediately."

Besides King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the group calling on Kennedy includes Ralph D. Abernathy, King's deputy, and they five leaders of Birmingham's Negro community.

The Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, leader of the Alabama Human Rights Movement; A. G. Gaston, businessman whose home and motel were recently bombed; Dr. Lucius Pitts, president of Miles College; Bishop H. I. Murchison; the Rev. J. L. Ware.

4.4 Million Chicks Started

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas producers started 4,419,000 broiler chicks during the week ended Sept. 14, the Crop Reporting Service estimated today.

This is three per cent less than in the previous week. Of the total placements in the state, 3,809,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas and 610,000 came from other states.

There were 259,000 broiler chicks shipped out of the state during the week.

called on Kennedy to send federal troops to Birmingham to control "civil disorder."

Long weeks of racial tension in the Alabama steel city reached a climax Sunday when a bomb was tossed into a Negro church, killing four children and injuring 23 others. In later incidents the same day, two Negro youths were killed.

In advance of Kennedy's late afternoon meeting with the Negro leaders, many civil rights leaders across the nation called for recognition of next Sunday as a day of national mourning for victims of the Birmingham church bombing.

A bipartisan group of senators, headed by Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader, has introduced a resolution calling on Kennedy to proclaim Sunday "a day of national observance in memory of these children and a day of dedication in the nation to the principles of law, equality and tolerance."

The situation in Birmingham brought a call Wednesday from Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, for the federal government to "cut off every nickel and every dime

Bankrupt Firm's Creditors to Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Dardanelle grain-brokerage firm, Bronson Woodworth, Inc., was declared bankrupt Tuesday and the first meeting for creditors was set for next Monday in federal District Court at Little Rock.

Referee in Bankruptcy Arnold C. Adams said a trustee would be appointed for the firm at that time.

The declaration came after three creditors of the firm filed suit Sept. 5 seeking to have the company declared bankrupt. They were the E. T. Allen Co. of Atlanta, Ga., Nathan Segal and Co., Inc., of Houston, Tex., and Acme Grain Corp. of Lubbock, Tex.

The president and principal stockholder of the firm has been indicted on 22 counts of fraud by presenting bills of lading on non-existent grain shipments to the Bank of Russellville March 4-5 to gain $160,000 credit.

The firm admitted insolvency in its reply to the creditors suit.

Hot Springs Goes for Bond Issue

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A bond issue to underwrite a yet unidentified $1 million aluminum fabricating plant and to finance development of a 190-acre industrial park was approved by Garland County voters Tuesday.

With 23 of 24 precincts counted, 1,309 persons had voted for the issues and 1,030 against it. The unreported precinct, at Jesselville, was not considered large enough to alter the outcome of the issue.

The issue was voted under Amendment 49 and that portion used to finance the aluminum plant would be retired through rental payments by the company.

The issue carried a 3 1/2 mill property tax, but officials of the Garland County Industrial Development Commission said it was unlikely that more than 1 1/4 mills

DOROTHY DIX

A SAFE HARBOR AFTER THE STORM

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: This is a story which may be helpful to others. In 1959, after 18 years of marriage, I had to choose between my three children and an emotionally disturbed husband. My pastor, doctor and finally the law told me I must leave him (two days before Christmas) or he would kill all of us.

The children were hysterical and I numb. We went to my sister's for our tragic holiday. When we returned the house seemed terribly empty, but fear was gone and so was my husband.

He came back many times during the night to frighten us. Once he tried to run my auto off the road. God was with us that night — an unexpected side lane proved an escape.

The police refused to pick my husband up because no one had been injured. Then he sprang our garage door so my car couldn't be got out. According to the police this, being community property, was his to destroy if so impelled.

Another time he tried to poison me. The D.A.'s office found the poison. Once freed, he sought to kill my son by banging the boy's head against a wall. A neighbor called the police but all they did was lecture my husband. Subsequently he purchased a motorcycle with money which should have gone to our support; had a terrible accident—compound fracture in three places of his left leg, three broken ribs—pulled muscles in arm. The ribs healed would be levied—for development of the park.

None of the money from the issue would be used to amortize, or pay interest on, the amount spent in underwriting the industry, officials said.

Dear Helen: My older sister gets her own way all the time. Every day she goes out with friends and leaves me to take care of my younger sister and pick up around the house. When I tell my mother, she won't believe me. I know this is horrible but I actually hate my sister! I am 18. My parents give me no privileges. What can I do? —One Who Is Miserable

Dear Helen: Last summer I met the nicest boy-lifeguard at our recreation club. I feel I love him and he tells me I'm the first girl he's ever loved. Girls swarm around him but he ignores them. My parents know and like him.

I do have one problem—he's 18, I'm 13. We're afraid to go together because of the difference in our ages. Do you think we should forget each other because there's five years between us? Or do you think, seeing as we really like one another, that we can be proud of what we feel? Please answer in your column because my Mom reads my mail. —Too Young?

Dear Helen: Your letter is an example of emotional fortitude springing from Christian faith and compassion. The seemingly insurmountable obstacles that you have overcome might easily have overwhelmed someone without your spiritual resources. The Biblical injunction to the effect that to whom much has been given, much is required—certainly was applied to you.

You have obviously been greatly sustained by prayer and the Bible. Thank you for your letter.

Thinks Cut Will Pep Up Spending

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has had to feel his way toward the $11-billion tax cut he asked the people to support Wednesday night in his television and radio broadcast.

His argument can be put this way:

Taxes are too high and have been for years. If they're cut, people and corporations will have more money to spend. This, by pepping up the economy, will be insurance against another recession.

Concern about a recession has been on his mind since he took office in 1961 although the word "recession" can be a delicate one with presidents.

President Eisenhower on Jan. 18, 1961—two days before he turned over the White House to Kennedy—told Congress in his economic report that there had been a "decline" in the economy.

Kennedy went a lot stronger than that 11 days later. In his State of the Union Message to Congress on Jan. 29, 1961, Kennedy said: "We take office in the wake of seven months of recession, three and a half years of slack."

He pointed back to the recession of 1958—which Eisenhower at the time had also called a recession—and said this country's recovery from that one was incomplete.

By the end of June 1961, after he had been in office six months, he reported the United States "had emerged from the recession." But fear of another one was high in his mind, as he showed later.

He referred Wednesday night, as he had before, to four recessions since the war: 1948-49; 1953-54; 1958-59; and 1960-61. He said high tax rates had helped cause the last two recessions.

In his first year Kennedy proposed various measures to bolster the economy but by 1962 he had definitely settled on a tax cut as a program to pursue, although in the beginning he only inched up to the problem.

In his budget message in January 1962, Kennedy didn't ask for a direct tax cut but suggested Congress give him stand-by authority to cut taxes if the economy began to show sickness.

Later in the year he went further and talked of wanting Congress to cut taxes across the board for individuals and corporations in 1963, a cut applying to 1963 income. This didn't get anywhere.

But, starting out this year, he made the across-the-board tax cut his major program for 1963. It eventually became apparent.

Forestry Queen Coming Here

Lucinda Williams, ARKANSAS' FOREST QUEEN, LUCINDA WILLIAMS OF

Harrison, will present a program for the Hope Kiwanis Club, Tuesday, Sept. 24, 12 noon in the Barlow Hotel. Miss Williams is a 17 year old, blue-eyed beauty who is representing the forest and wood products industries during 1963-64.

Lucinda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marc A. Williams, is a graduate of Harrison High School, where she was a member of National Honor Society and Alpha Gamma Mu.

Her hobbies include horseback riding, reading, singing and dancing. Her special talent is popular singing. She will travel thousands of miles during her reign, urging conservation of our forest resources as she appears before and presents a program for all types of groups and organizations.

as this tardy Congress dawdled along, that even if it approved a cut it wouldn't apply to 1963 income.

Then last week he got over his first big hurdle when the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles tax matters, approved 17 to 8 a tax cut of $11 billion.

Fifteen Democrats and two Republicans teamed up to approve the measure over the opposition of eight Republicans. Approval by this committee was a necessary preliminary before the full House could get a chance to vote on it.

The full House tackles it next week. And Wednesday night Kennedy used some of his television time to take a swipe at foes of the bill, mostly Republicans. Republicans quickly announced they will demand equal television time to answer.

But even if the House gives Kennedy the tax cut he wants, there can't be any tax reduction unless the Senate also approves and it may be weeks before a Senate committee even begins hearings, and more weeks before three can be a full vote on the bill in the Senate, if it ever gets there.

In his economic report last January Kennedy said in the 1948-49 and 1953-54 recessions a tax cut had helped check the decline and spur recovery.

Congress cut taxes $4.7 billion in 1948, just before the full impact of the recession was felt. The upturn began in October, 1949.

In the 1953-54 recession individual, corporate and excise tax reductions cost the government, Kennedy figured, about $7.4 billion in revenue. That recession ended in August 1954.

But Kennedy said it might have ended sooner if the cuts had been made sooner. There's no recession in sight now. Kennedy takes the position a tax cut before there is a recession will help avoid it.

The main protest of his opponents is that it's poor economy to

Roy Bearden, vocational agriculture instructor at Valley View High School near Jonesboro may hold some sort of record as a good loser.

When he went to take a physical exam Feb. 19 prior to being promoted to the rank of major in the Army Reserve he weighed 310 pounds.

The Army took a look at his weight and gave him two choices. Go into the inactive reserve for a year and get his weight down or take a discharge.

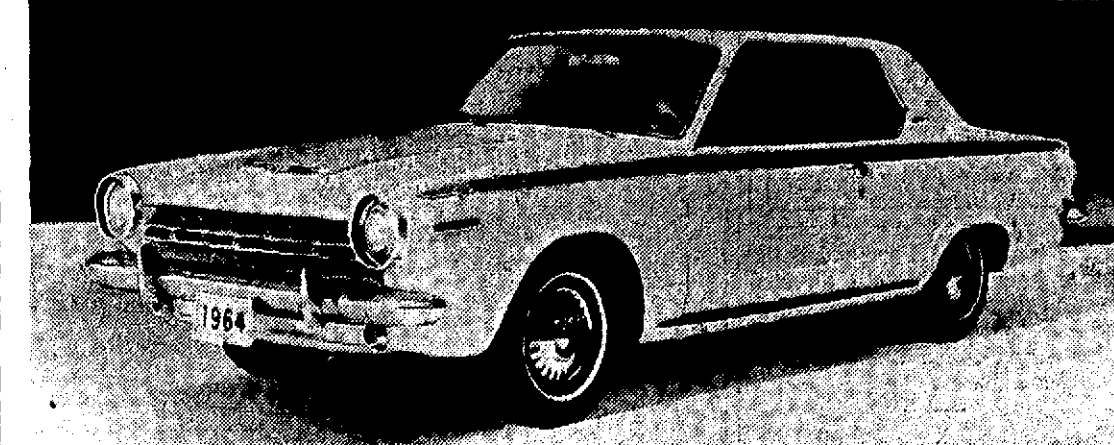

Bearden elected the inactive status, advising his superiors then and there that he had started on a "crash program diet."

In the first two weeks he lost some 40 pounds and the Army rescinded its original order and gave Bearden 30 days in which to trim off more weight.

When this period was up he tipped the scales at just over 235.

He got his promotion. Bearden has tapered off at 205 pounds now — after trimming 14 inches off his waist.

An Atkins poultryman who is getting a reputation for coming out on the worse end of situations was a little less than successful the other night in routing a predator from his henhouse.

Reece Alewine, who has had experience in getting rid of varmints, hurried out to the poultry house, spied the invader, and cut loose with what was thought to be a well-aimed rock.

The blow didn't kill the intruder, but did him it up in a corner—caught in a small hole in the wall.

Alewine, working in the dark, grabbed for the two hind legs of the animal, thinking "this will be your last visit here."

When he grabbed the hind legs and the tail flew up, he knew he'd made a mistake.

Alewine's clothes were burned in the back yard. The polecat is still at large.

Channing a New Kind of College Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Channing," ABC's new Wednesday night dramatic series may sound like the name of a Western but is a fictional university around which the stories are to be built.

Viewers who tuned in Wednesday night expecting to watch freshmen stuffing phone booths or the quarterback making a last-minute touchdown had a surprise.

Most of the premiere show took place in the death row and visiting room of a state prison. What little college atmosphere shown was strictly coincidental. But despite the iron bars and the hyperthyroid acting of guest star John Cassavetes playing a convicted murder, the opening show was slow-moving, talky and over loaded with fuzzy philosophy.

A young professor of English—the role assumed for the run of the show by Jason Evers—received a manuscript written in prison by the killer, is vastly impressed and then proceeds to become interested in the man and his fate.

The professor got almost hysterical because the killer of an old lady during a holdup was going to the gas chamber. The show, however, was not exactly a preachment against capital punishment. In fact, it was hard to say exactly what point it was making. At any rate, "Channing" was not very interesting to watch.

The new "Patty Duke Show," also on ABC, may not win that

Sunshine Prevails Over Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sunshine prevailed over Arkansas today and the fair weather is expected to last at least until Saturday when a new cool front will move into the state, the Weather Bureau said.

Temperatures were expected to reach into the low 90s this afternoon after almost a week of 80-degree maximums.

The cool front heading this way was centered today over the northwestern plains. Showers may accompany the movement of the front through Arkansas.

The sun's return resulted in excellent harvest conditions over most of the state.

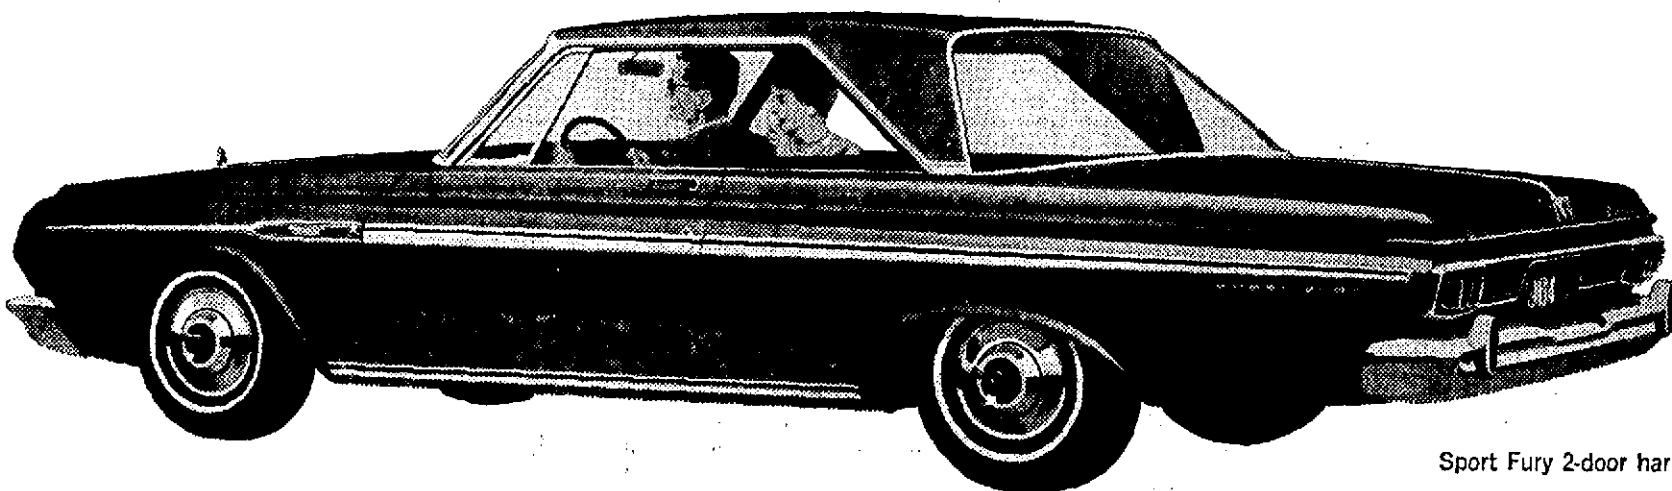

Wednesday's high temperatures ranged between 80 at Little Rock and 89 at Fort Smith. Overnight lows ranged from 54 at Fayetteville to 65 at Texarkana.

No rain was reported at any major Weather Bureau station in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a. m. today.

Ashamed to Be Back, Liston Says

By DON WILLIAMS
Associated Press Sports Writer

DENVER (AP) — Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston back home suddenly and mysteriously from a British exhibition boxing tour, says he is "ashamed to be in America."

But he doesn't say why, any more than he will explain what prompted him to break off his successful overseas swing and hop a jet flight home.

Asked why he was ashamed to be here, the world's champion said Wednesday night: "You ought to be able to figure that out."

And when asked whether it was financial or family matters that brought him back, he retorted: "That's getting just plain nosy."

Liston left British boxing circles buzzing Wednesday with his sudden departure. A boxing writer for a London newspaper said the champion had a tiff with his adviser, Jack Nilon, who denied this was so. The Midlands inspector of the British Boxing Board of Control, William Cotterill, said Liston had accused him of "sending 'two broads' up to his room" but that he convinced the champion it wasn't true.

Sonny himself said he was leaving because of the illness of his daughter, Eleanor, 12, at home in Denver. The mention of the girl was something new in itself. It had not been known that Liston was a father.

At the Liston residence in northeast Denver, the champion's wife of nine years, Geraldine, said the girl is Liston's daughter—and her stepdaughter—and that the child was in good health and attended school Wednesday.

Nilon and Liston's sparring partner, Poneda Fox, made another swirl in the conflicting rumors stirred up by the champion's abrupt flight. They said Sonny had not one, but two daughters, and that the older one, Mary, is 17.

This would mean Liston fathered a child when he was about 13. He is now 29, according to Ring, the boxing magazine, or 30, according to Ben Bentley, his aide.

But Liston has offered no light on his age, his parental state, his relations with boxing associates and officials, or his reason for returning stateside.

The champion was slow rising from his seat after his jet landed at the Denver Airport. He made up for the delay by striding at a near-run down the loading ramp and into the concourse at the terminal. He swung a heavy black cane as he loped, and he treated reporters like a pack of unworthy contenders pestering him for a match.

He stopped suddenly and announced:

"I'm ashamed to say that I'm in America."

But wasn't it the British with whom he was supposed to be angry?

"You should see the way they treated me," the champion replied. "It made me ashamed to be from America."

His only approach to an explanation of his return was:

"Well, I have problems."

Chances for Survival of Quints Mount

By DON REEDER
ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — The Fischer quintuplets squirmed and squallied in their hospital nursery today while their fortunes and chances for survival continued to mount.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer, parents of the four girls and a boy, got good news from several directions Wednesday.

They will someday live in a new house costing up to $100,000.

A potful of money (some say about $50,000) is coming their way for an exclusive contract signed with the Curtis Publishing Co.

Authorities at St. Luke's Hospital reported the quintlets still improving, eating more and showing lots of life in their Isolettes.

It is estimated that gifts and money received by the family so far total some $50,000.

E. C. Pieplow, president of the Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce, told a news conference Wednesday night that the Fischer family has accepted the chamber offer to build the home, which may cost up to the $100,000 mark.

The site and size of the home have yet to be determined.

Don Schanche, managing editor of the Saturday Evening Post, announced that Curtis has secured radio, television and publishing rights to stories and pictures about the famous quintts.

He refused to disclose any details of the agreement. Unofficial reports set the purchase price at about $50,000 for rights to the story for a few issues of the Post and Curtis' Ladies Homes Journal.

Schanche said his company was "very happy to have concluded the agreement and thinks it is the best thing for all concerned."

He pledged the story of the quintts would be handled "with dignity and decorum."

A hospital bulletin reported the quintts were "still tolerating their food well" and the food intake has been increased beyond the tea-

Hopes for a World Golf Code Dim

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Hopes of a worldwide golf code appear doomed, but U.S. amateurs and professionals are getting closer together on a uniform set of playing standards.

This was the general reaction today to the announcement by the U.S. Golf Association that it is making four amendments, effective Jan. 1, 1964, which are at variance with the rules adopted by the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews.

The general effect is this: While golf will be played differently in Britain and the United States it will look more like one game in this country.

The new rules, softening the penalties on unplayable lies and by local option on out-of-bounds, are more in line with those used by the pros on the Professional Golfers Association tour.

They also should be welcomed by the lowly duffers. They cut down the costs of mistakes.

The Royal and Ancient, which presides over the sacred ground where the game supposedly was born, and the U.S. Golf Association make the rules by which most of the world plays the game.

The PGA, which runs the multi-million-dollar tour which has spawned such links capitalists as Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, has been operating under still a different set of standards.

Here are the four basic changes in the USGA rules, not supported by the R & A:

1. Flagstick: A ball striking an unattended flagstick when played from the putting green or within 20 yards of the hole will be a penalty of loss of hole in match play and two strokes in stroke play. (At present, and under the R & A code, there is no penalty).

2. Unplayable Ball: The penalty to be cut from two strokes to one stroke for dropping the ball from an unplayable lie. As an alternative, a ball may be dropped point where the unplayable ball lay. The alternative of stroke and distance is retained.

3. Provisional Ball: May be played only for a ball which is lost or out-of-bounds and may not be played for a ball which is unplayable or in a water hazard. (The R & A code will allow a provisional ball for a ball lost, out of bounds or unplayable).

4. Local Rules: Local committees will be permitted to make certain provisions dealing with local conditions. On an out-of-bounds, a ball may be dropped, under penalty of one stroke, within two club-lengths of the place where the original ball last crossed the boundary line.

Warns Brown Spider Bite Can Be Fatal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beware of a common brown spider, which has a dark spot shaped like a violin on its head, the Veterans Administration said today.

The VA announced that a research group in Arkansas has found that the spider, often called the brown house spider and scientifically known as Loxosceles reclusus, is highly poisonous and can cause death.

The spider is found from Kansas south to the Gulf Coast and from Tennessee west to Oklahoma the research group said. It also may appear in other areas of the country.

The VA research group includes doctors from the University of Arkansas Medical Center and the Little Rock VA Hospital. They are Drs. Calvin J. Dillaha, G. Thomas Jansen, W. Mage Honeycutt and Carson R. Hayden.

They said medical groups in Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas have been reporting increasing numbers of patients bitten by the spider.

They said the spider is potent-spoonful or so of artificial milk formula and water being received every two hours.

The boy, James Andrew, remained the most active of the infants.

"He lets you know he's a boy," one nurse reported.

Also reported highly active and healthy were the four girls—Mary Margaret, Mary Magdalene, Mary Catherine and Mary Ann.

ially more dangerous than the black widow.

The brown spider was described as slightly smaller than the black widow. It has an oval body with four long legs on each side.

It is often called the brown house spider or brown recluse because, the researchers said, although it is found out-of-doors in open fields and rocky bluffs, it thrives particularly well in homes—in dark corners, closets and storerooms.

The one distinguishing mark that differentiates it from other spiders is a dark spot shaped like a violin on its head. The researchers added that the general appearance of the spider is insignificant to the point of innocence.

Be Careful, as You Could Be Drafted

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — To naturalized Americans thinking of paying a visit to their old homelands, the State Department gives this urgent advice:

"Check up beforehand, lest you get caught in a draft."

A military draft, that is. The problem came up recently in the case of Samuel Cohen, 27, a Chicago Educator. He went to Israel this past summer to study briefly—but he may have to stay another 2½ years as a soldier.

Cohen was born in Israel but became a naturalized American after he came to this country 12 years ago. The trouble is, the Israelis consider him still a citizen of their country. They are holding him for military service.

U.S. diplomats are working to release him, with dubious prospects of success.

The case illustrates the tangled international situation with regard to citizenship. What nationality you are may depend on where you are.

The United States, for example, does not recognize dual citizenship. Once an alien takes the U.S. citizenship he is considered an American—period.

But Israel holds that an Israeli remains an Israeli until he formally renounces citizenship and this renunciation is accepted by the interior minister of Israel.

Other countries have similar laws, but U.S. officials say the Grow (Ret) who commanded the 4th, Mrs. Grow, Edward F. Reed, secretary of the group of Louisville, Ky., and Henry E. Parkin, president, New Bedford Mass.

Israelis seem to be "stickler than most" in enforcing them.

The United States has agreements with a number of countries, notably NATO nations, ironing out some citizenship problems. Several countries exempt men from conscription if they served in the U.S. armed forces in World War II.

In general, though, the State Department advises that naturalized citizens planning trips to their native lands should check with consulates to see what they may be getting into.

There's another warning. If a naturalized citizen stays three years in the country of his origin, he may risk losing American citizenship. However, he may safely stay abroad as long as eight years if he hops from country to country.

Teachers Name Hot Springs Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Kelly Bryant said Wednesday that Dr. Hugh L. Mills of Hot Springs has defeated C. D. Franks of Ashdown for a position on the state Teacher Retirement Board by a vote of 1,126 to 878.

Both Mills and Franks, a 10-year veteran board member, are school superintendents. The election was confined to system members in the Fourth Congressional District.

One member of the five-member board is elected each year.

City to Insure Bond Validity

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The city of Eureka Springs appealed to the state Supreme Court Wednesday a case it won in Carroll County Chancery Court.

The case involves an election on an $85,000 sewer and water bond issue which was approved last June.

Mrs. John R. Rich and others brought suit, charging that the mayor and city council had "hand picked" election officials to insure passage of the issue. The complaint also contended the election officials were not qualified.

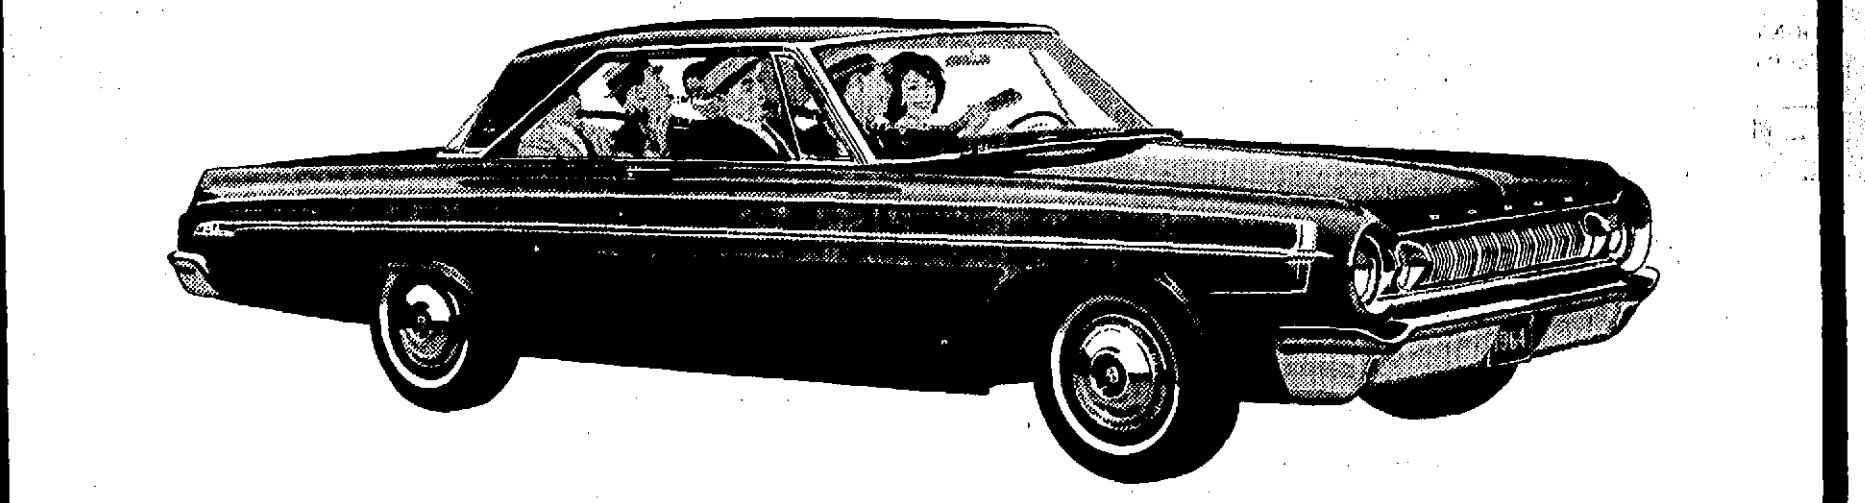

The city won the suit. A favorable Supreme Court decision would insure validity of the election.

White House conference on mental retardation opened today with a message from President Kennedy calling for concerted efforts to help five million neglected and mentally deficient Americans.

Dodgers Crush Cards With Another Win

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Nen was in Oklahoma City Tuesday night, in St. Louis Wednesday night and in seventh heaven today.

Nen was the unknown commodity who turned into a valuable piece of merchandise with one swing of his bat as the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers crushed St. Louis' pennant hopes by edging the second-place Cardinals 6-5 in 13 innings.

A left-handed swinger, Nen, 23, was in Oklahoma City Tuesday playing for Spokane in the Pacific Coast League playoffs. With that ended, he was called up to the Dodgers and joined the club in St. Louis just before the final Wednesday night of the three-game series between the contenders.

When the Dodgers got involved in a late-inning shuffle, Nen wound up playing first base. He came up in the ninth inning with the Dodgers trailing 5-4 and immediately collected his first major league hit—a home run that tied the score.

The Dodgers went on to win in the 13th with the help of a two-base throwing error by Julian Javier as relief ace Ron Perranoski got credit for the victory that dropped the Cardinals four games behind and virtually out of the running.

"Nervous?" Nen exclaimed in answer to a question as reporters gathered around in the Dodgers dressing room. "I was scared stiff. I had no idea I'd be called upon."

Nen, who has averaged only one homer every 17 games in the PCL since he hit a fast ball, low and inside.

"I knew I hit it good, but I had no idea it was a home run until I saw the umpire give the home run sign."

"It was a strange feeling." The loss left the Cardinals with the almost impossible task of making up five games in the loss column with only seven games remaining. The Dodgers, meanwhile, will return home to close out the season with a nine-game stand.

In other NL action Wednesday, Philadelphia belted the New York Mets 5-1 in the last baseball game to be played at the Polo Grounds. Milwaukee defeated San Francisco 6-4, the Chicago Cubs edged Pittsburgh 2-1 and Houston walloped Cincinnati 8-4.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox swept a doubleheader from Boston 8-3 and 4-3. Camilo Pascual pitched a two-hitter as Minnesota crushed Detroit 10-0. Kansas City edged Washington 5-4 and Baltimore took two from the Los Angeles Angels 3-1 and 7-5, with Steve Barber becoming a 20-game winner in the opener.

The American League champion New York Yankees and Cleveland were not scheduled.

The Cardinals built a 3-1 lead on a two-run homer by Charley James in the second inning off Pete Richter and a three-run third inning capped by Curt Flood's two-run double. Cardinal starter Bob Gibson took the lead and a

Mack McLarty

Mack McLarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLarty, resides at 1 McLarty Drive. He is a senior and a Tri-Captain of the 1963 Bobcats. Mack is 5'8" tall and weighs 160. He has been a regular quarterback for the Bobcats for the past two years where he has earned two letters.

Mack has lettered two years in basketball following a fine junior career in which he was named to the All-State Junior Team. He was a member of the 1963 Bobcats track team.

One of the top awards ever bestowed upon a Hope boy was given to Mack this summer when he was elected Governor of Boys State which bears out the fact that he is a real leader. Mack was elected President of the Student Council and has received the Joe Amour Award, being the only freshman ever to receive this award. He is also a member of the National Honor Society. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Mack's father, Frank McLarty, is the president of Hope Auto Company, the local Ford dealer. His mother, Helen, is a housewife.

Mack plans to attend college at the University of Arkansas or S.M.U. and would like to major in speech and TV broadcasting.

SWC Teams Open Play on Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southwest Conference teams don't start the 1963 season until this weekend but there's already another saga in the colorful league's history book—a football player was injured in a classroom.

The injury in the classroom—physical not academic—befell wingback George Walker of the University of Arkansas Razorbacks.

"Walker stood up in class today and hurt his back," Coach Frank Broyles reported.

The Razorbacks, host to Oklahoma State Saturday night, also suffered other injuries Wednesday. "Glen Ray Hines hurt his back in a dummy scrimmage and Jim Lindsey stopped and tried to turn around and cover a fumble in dummy practice and sprained his ankle," Broyles continued.

"We'd be better off in a full-scale scrimmage. We don't get anybody hurt then. We get them hurt either before we start, or in dummy scrimmages, or just walking down stairs."

At other Southwest Conference camps workouts Wednesday were a little more prosaic with only Texas Christian reporting a new injury as the Frogs prepared for Saturday's battle with Kansas.

Starting end Tom Magoffin turned an ankle but TCU trainer Elmer Brown said he would have to wait at least a day to say whether the senior would be able to go against Kansas.

Another member of TCU's first team, tackle Ricky Williams, re-injured his ankle in Tuesday's practice and will miss the opening game.

Two teams worked out in steady rains triggered by Hurricane Cindy.

At College Station, Coach Hank Foldsberg sent his Texas A&M through complete offensive and defensive patterns and despite the rain and water-logged field the Cadets made few mistakes in handling the slick ball. The Aggies play Louisiana State at Baton Rouge Saturday night.

The Rice Owls—who open against the LSU Tigers Sept. 28, worked out in a steady rain with Walter McReynolds and Benny Hollingsworth directing the first and second teams at quarterback in scrimmage against the reserves.

At Austin, the Texas Longhorns, defending champs of the Southwest Conference, ran through a one-hour polishing drill in preparation for Friday night's game against Tulane. Coach Darrell

De Queen Always Tough for Bobcats

By CARTER HARDAGE

Hope Star Sports Writer

The big surprise this season thus far seems to be the DeQueen Leopards, Hope's opposition next week. Evolving from a team given little or no chance at all, they are now tied for ninth place in the state, after butchering Big 10 Hot Springs 25-6 last week.

With only medium size, DeQueen's main threat is speed. It's "Kotey bar the door" if they find a little running room. They also have a good kicking game, and they throw some, but speed is the thing. Another thing, the Leopards don't make a habit of losing at DeQueen. After a crushing 39-12 defeat at the hands of the Cats last year, DeQueen simply has one more reason to be up for Hope. This could be one of the best, and the roughest, games of the year.

'Chokeup' Charge Is Laid to Rest

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The triumphant Dodgers today had finally laid to rest the chokeup charge that has followed them since they lost the 1962 National League pennant to San Francisco.

Walter Alston's vindication-bent Los Angeles club all but buried valiant St. Louis' pennant hopes in Busch Stadium Wednesday night with a come-from-behind 6-5 victory in 13 innings that left 25-975 Redbird rooters stunned and speechless.

The dramatic victory gave the Dodgers a sweep of the three-game series here and boosted their first place lead over the Cards to four games.

The team that had to listen to such cruel taunts as "choke up artists" and "quitters" heard nothing but praise as they left this city for Los Angeles where they need win only five of their nine remaining games to earn the right to meet the New York Yankees in the World Series.

It was a wildly joyous and defiant group of Dodgers who whooped it up in the visitors' clubhouse Wednesday night. They cheered Ron Perranoski, whose brilliant pitching through six runless relief innings kept the Dodgers in the game.

They hailed a newcomer, Dick Nen, who hit a game-tying ninth-inning home run in his first major league game.

They lauded Tommy Davis, who got the key hit, a two-run single, in a three-run eighth inning that closed the Cardinal gap to 5-4. They hugged Willie Davis who ignited the winning rally in the 12th with a single and embraced Meury Wills who drove Willie home with the winning run.

"There isn't a guttier team in baseball," shouted Don Drysdale, the team's ace right-hander who earlier had vowed to make the choke-up critics eat their words. "All this choke-up talk just made us that much more determined to win it," snapped Wally Moon.

Sharing the center of the stage with Perranoski in the Dodger clubhouse was Nen, 23, a left-handed hitting first baseman from Wilmington, Calif., who only two years ago was playing at Reno, Nev.

"I was scared stiff when Mr. Alston told me to go in as a pinch hitter," the tall, dark-haired youngster admitted. "I had no idea I'd play. I just figured I'd sit around."

Gets Opponent

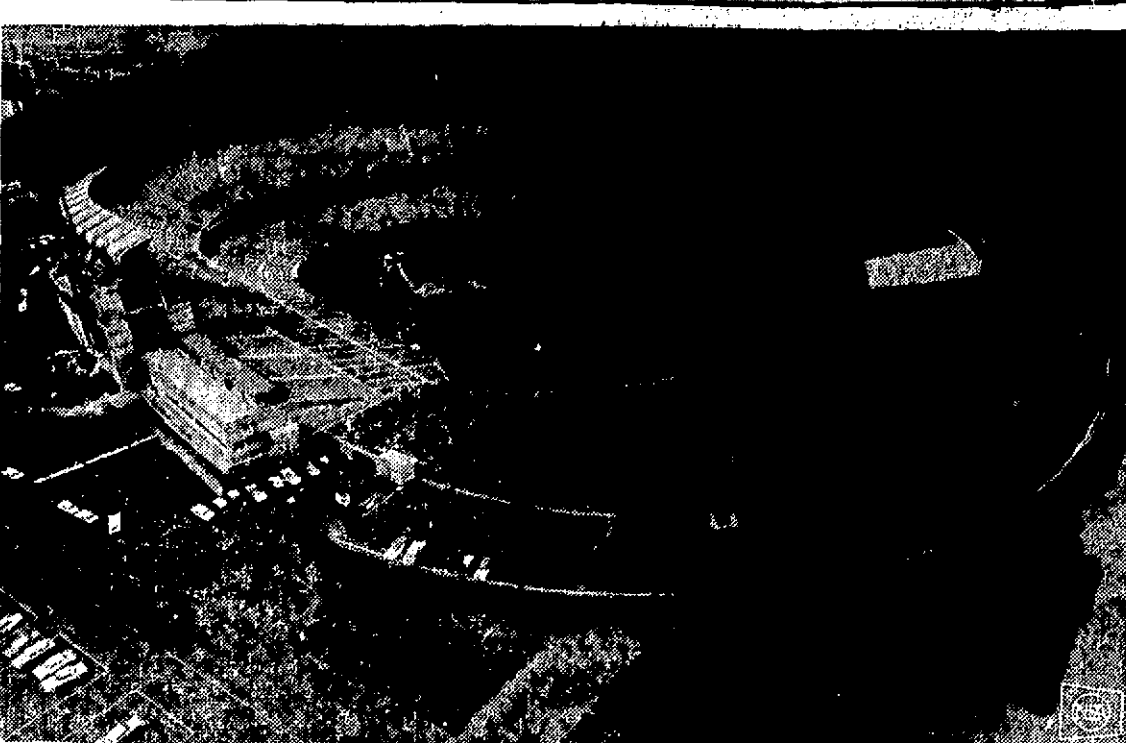

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Jack Oldham, 38, a merchant, has announced that he will oppose incumbent Roy Goudy for mayor of El Dorado in the November municipal elections. Goudy was re-nominated in the July Democratic primary. Oldham said he would run as an independent.

Royal said the Longhorns would go through a light workout when the squad of 38 players arrives in New Orleans.

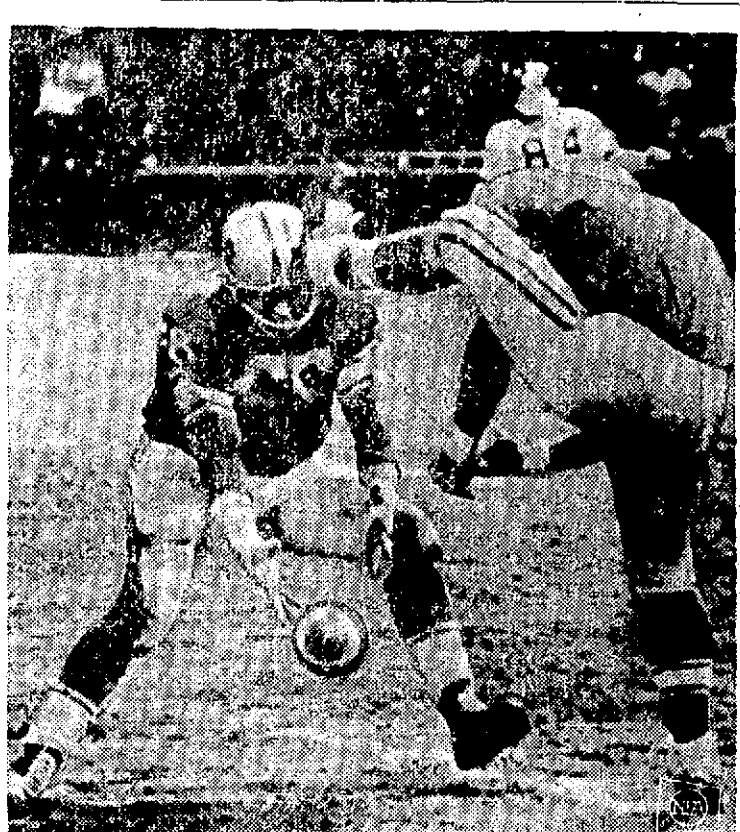

Contact work was held to a minimum at Lubbock where Coach J. T. King had his Texas Tech Red Raiders devoting most of their practice session to polishing up on the tactics to be used against Washington State Saturday night.

The Baylor Bears, who open the season against Houston Sept. 28, had a brisk workout Wednesday and welcomed the return of 220-pound sophomore center Ralph Dunlap and quarterback Ronnie Wilson, who had been sidelined because of injuries.

Coach Hayden Fry put the Southern Methodist University Mustangs through a two-hour drill that included a controlled scrimmage. Though he had some praise for the squad, Fry declared that he was glad SMU's opener against Michigan isn't until Sept. 28 because his team is not in condition for a game this weekend.

NO BATTER UP: This is Candlestick Park, San Francisco, during an off day. However, some observers believe that all baseball parks will look like this in 15 years.

NO KICK COMING—Pittsburgh Steelers' Wayne Walker, right, isn't really kicking Joe Schmidt of the Lions in the face. The linebackers are scrambling for a ball fumbled on a pass at Tiger Stadium in Detroit.

Split School Term

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Valley View voters will decide next Tuesday whether to continue the split term school system or switch to a nine month term. Patrons of the Valley View School District, south of Jonesboro, petitioned the school board earlier this year for the election.

Something Like a Good Mystery

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

Like a good mystery?

They join Coach Frank Broyles in trying to guess what kind of offense Oklahoma State University will throw at his University of Arkansas football team in the first game of the season for both teams.

You'll learn the answer Saturday night in Little Rock. A capacity crowd of about 40,000 is expected for the kickoff at 7:30 p.m.

"We're really in the dark," Broyles said. "We just don't know what to expect—except that they'll be tough."

Coach Doug Dickey, who delivered the scouting report on the Cowboys, told the Razorbacks that about the only thing they knew about OSU was that they didn't know much about OSU.

Dickey said the Big Eight Conference team will be more agile, and "a hard-nosed, mobile type of football team."

He cited wingback Wardell Hollis, fullback Edwin Thomas and quarterback Mike Miller as dangerous offensive threats.

Broyles has some other intriguing questions on his mind. Like, what kind of football team has he built this fall?

"Our offense has looked pretty good in practice," he says, "but it hasn't shown us what last year's team could do at this time."

Can the defense hold a lighter, quicker OSU offense?

"Defense has been our big disappointment this fall," Broyles says. "It just hasn't looked good at all."

Will injuries play a major role in the outcome of the Arkansas-OSU game?

"Injuries have hurt us a lot, especially in conditioning and morale," he says. "They will keep some boys at half-speed, too, and a couple won't play because of injuries."

Guard Mike Hales and tackle Buddy Tackett will miss the OSU game with injuries.

Will quarterback Bill Gray's shoulder problem allow him to pass accurately?

"The shoulder will get its first game test Saturday night," Broyles said. "We think it will be all right. We certainly hope so. How well we do this year depends on how well Bill Gray does."

What kind of leadership can be expected out of a senior-less offensive backfield?

"We're hoping they can do the job," Broyles said. "Inexperience always hurts you some, but we hope these boys can come along and get together quick."

Is Broyles worried about the opening game?

"Always, always," he said.

Key Issues Involves State Lawmakers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two key issues affecting the nation involve Congressmen from Arkansas—the nuclear test ban treaty and the tax reduction bill.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is pushing for Senate approval of the test ban treaty.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is expected to bring the tax bill before the House this week.

Fulbright may remain in the spotlight of test ban treaty debate for another week or two. The debate is expected to last that long.

The senator remarked today that it would be nice if the United States and Russia could produce giant, noisy smoke bombs that would produce non-radioactive clouds, so we could enjoy "the fun and excitement of nuclear war without being killed."

Fulbright has been on the floor of the Senate almost constantly since he kicked off the great debate on the treaty more than a week ago, answering questions, providing information and fending off attacks on the treaty by opponents.

Mills broke his long silence on the tax measure last week, advocating the administration measure.

Mills' committee completed work on the measure this week and he is expected to appear before the House Rules committee in the next few days to have it cleared for floor consideration.

House debate is expected to begin Sept. 24.

Mills said in a statement outlining his views on the bill that it would point the country away from federal spending to build the economy. Private industry, he said, can do this through increased revenues available through reductions and revisions of the tax formula.

McClellan is expected to back House approval of the nuclear test ban treaty, but reluctantly. He is known to feel that the Senate shouldn't have been put in the position of having to vote on the treaty proposal.

A man aboard a U.S. naval craft off the coast of Nigeria now knows a lot about Arkansas, thanks to the communications satellite Syncom and Fred Pickens of Little Rock.

Pickens was in Washington with a group that conferred with National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials about getting Arkansas into the nation's huge space program. They later visited the Goddard Space Center.

Pickens said after talking through Syncom, "I talked to a Fred Friedel. I don't know where he was from, but I guarantee he knows a lot about Arkansas now. I told him quite a bit."

Trouble With Pakistan Says Nehru

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today Pakistanis forced fired about 3,000 rounds of rifle and light machine gun ammunition at Indian posts in the disputed Lathilla area of Assam on the east Pakistan border Sunday.

He told Parliament Indian border patrols returned the fire but in a smaller scale. Nehru said one tea plantation worker was seriously wounded and a woman also was hurt by Pakistani fire on a village in the area.

Nehru said a small number of casualties, despite heavy firing, showed it was being done by the Pakistanis "not so much to kill or wound but to create tension."

He said the Indian high commissioner in Karachi has been instructed to protest to the Pakistani government and ask it to halt such incidents.

Lathilla is 55 miles southeast of Assam's capital, Shillong. It is the subject of disputed interpretation of the border settlement made after the partition of India and Pakistan. Incidents have occurred there in the past.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"It was Judy who made me go back to work," said June Allyson, inactive except for a brief television drama since the death of her husband, Dick Powell, Jan. 3.

One night Judy Garland spotted her at a restaurant.

"She came over to my table and started to bowl me out," June recalled. "She told me, 'You look terrible. You don't even look like a movie star. Your eyes are all red. Have you been spending all your time crying in the back room.'"

"I had to admit that I had. 'All right,' she said, 'you're going to work on my show. I need you and you're going to help me out.'"

I found June rehearsing for the Garland show at CBS, her hair in curlers and a new note of enthusiasm in her voice.

"I didn't think I could do it," she said. "I've had two throat operations and I didn't know if I could still sing. I haven't done anything musical in 10 years. I started out in musicals, but then I cried in one picture, waving goodbye to Jimmy Stewart, and from then on I was typed."

She reminisced about the days when she and Judy starred at MGM.

"We didn't find out about it until later, but the studio used to work us against each other," she said. "They'd say to Judy, 'Now don't you get out of line, because we've got this new girl Allyson ready to take over for you if you do.'"

"Then they'd say to me 'Don't start thinking you're great, because Judy is the big star around here.' The reason we're both so short is that they kept beating us down."

Charged With Fraud in Lake Land Sales

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Julian E. Ebbert, 62, of Little Rock and Henry Thomas Settles, a former resident of Heber Springs who now lives in the Rogers area, have been indicted on charges of defrauding the public in the sale of land near Greers Ferry Reservoir in Cleburne County.

The indictment was returned Thursday by the federal Grand Jury for the Eastern District of Arkansas. It was made public Tuesday.

The indictment says the men bought 80 acres of "raw and rough" land, subdivided it into 260 separate tracts and collected more than $120,000 from several purchasers.

It also says the defendants or their representatives made false promises that, without additional expense, all the streets would be paved and that public utilities would be available along the roads; that a bulldozer would be provided for clearing the lots; and that the subdivision would have a community boat dock, swimming center and private swimming beach and picnic area.

The indictment said the men began their enterprise in June 1961.

Patients Missing in Idaho Fire

RIGGINS, Idaho (AP)—Seven patients were reported missing today in a fire that destroyed the Paradise Pines rest home near this tiny western Idaho community. Thirty others were evacuated safely.

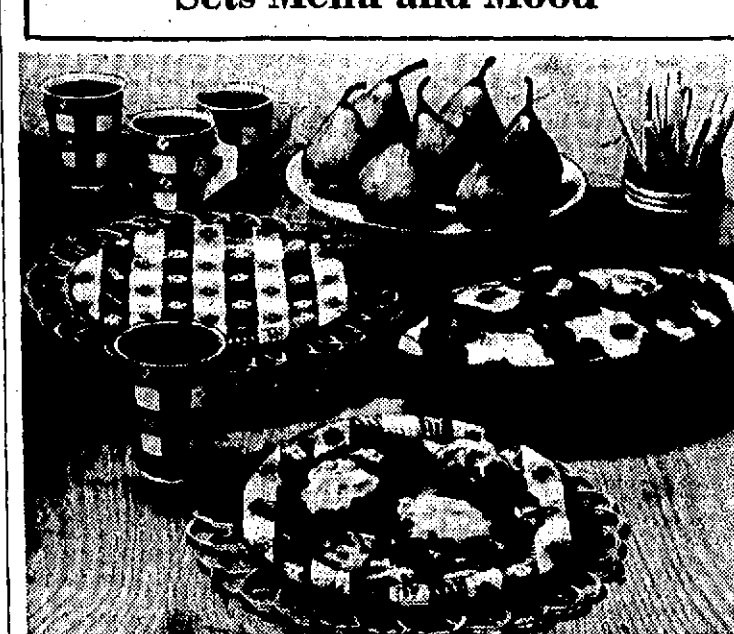

Sheriff's Deputy Frank Heath said some bodies were sighted in the charred wreckage, but the number of dead was not determined.

The fire, believed to have started in a wood-burning stove near the center of the sprawling, one-story wooden structure, burned the rest home to the ground.

Thirty patients were taken by ambulance to a hospital at McCall, 30 miles to the south, and 18 remained there for treatment.

Texas has only one trout stream, a stocked four-mile waterway flowing through McKittrick Canyon.

New Chianti Paperware Pattern Sets Menu and Mood

Saturday Night spaghetti suppers, as popular with grown-ups as pizzas are with teen-agers, can now be served up with the built-in mood of a Continental cafe. Simply use a brand new paperware pattern, appropriately called Chianti.

Marketed under the Bondware label, this red-and-white checked pattern, warmly reminiscent of gay cafe tablecloths, provides a colorful setting for many informal occasions: supper with family friends; Sunday brunch parties; stop-by-after-choir-practice night; Bowling Night Buffet, for a few. It also makes a gay setting for children's parties.

The coating of a layer of plastic, smoothly bonded to the paper, has done much to give paperware a new and glowing life indoors. Plastic-coated paperware products now are suitable for serving casseroles, stews, gravies and sauces.

Here, Chianti joins the scene for a Saturday Night supper with friends—informal, colorful and friendly. A wide-noodle version of the Italian lasagne looks tempting on plastic-coated paper plates. Wicker place mats are used to under-

August Not Good Month for Business

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans are confronted again today with evidence that the course of industry and trade isn't perpetually and inevitably upward. Their tendency usually is to exaggerate the meaning of any such bobble just as it is to build hopes too high on any upward gains.

Industrial production dipped in August from July. Employment didn't advance as much as it usually does after the July slack period.

The big spurt in industrial output in the last seven months after a long spell of inaction had led many to forecast the same big gains over the rest of the year.

It will be easy to read too much into the August dip, just as it was to read too much into the previous seven months' figures. There are explanations for the dip that erase some of its significance, and for the previous rise which take away some of its glamor.

Those viewing the current economic upturn as aging and therefore ready for a downturn may take the August figures as a text for sermons on caution.

Most industrialists probably have already seasoned their views of continuing prosperity with a good helping of caution. If they haven't, the warning of the August figures that the lines of their charts can't always point upward may arouse a little caution, never such a bad thing as some hold.

The Federal Reserve Board reports its seasonally adjusted index of industrial production in August was 125.6 per cent of the 1957-59 average. In July it had been a record 126.5 per cent.

Actually, the production of both nondurable goods and business equipment advanced. The dip came in durable goods, mining and utilities.

In mining and durable goods the decline was caused mainly by a wider than usual shutdown in auto production for model changeovers and by a drop in steel activity which followed the announcement of a new labor contract.

Car production already is on the rise and is expected to go still higher, with the new models now making their bid for public approval.

Steel output also is increasing and new orders are coming in at a rate that guarantees at least moderate gains in the weeks ahead.

September and October are likely to tell a lot more about the health of, and the length of, the current upturn in the business cycle than did August.

Plenty Action in Two New TV Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—There was plenty of old fashioned action and suspense loaded into the two new series which made their debut Tuesday night on ABC.

"The Greatest Show on Earth" has colorful, authentic circus background and, if the first episode is typical, will follow the traditional circus plot.

But the circus story, like the Western, is a classic form that is pretty hard to beat for pure romantic escape.

Tuesday night's script centered on a self-pitying, hate-consuming lion tamer limping back on a wooden leg to punish the animals and the man he held responsible for crippling him.

All this led up to a rip-snorting climax inside the cage with the snarling beasts goaded to attack. Jack Palance, the series' star, played the circus owner in rugged style, but the spotlight and action centered on Harry Guardino, playing the violent lion tamer.

It was pure, uncomplicated entertainment and very satisfactory viewing.

"The Fugitive" ABC's second new entry night, was a taut show about a man who was both hunter and hunted. The first episode opened by showing David Janssen playing a convicted murderer-innocent, we are immediately told — en route to his execution.

Suddenly, there is a train wreck, and our hero is next seen six months later far away, with dyed hair, an assumed name and jumpy nerves. He is hunting a one-armed man he suspects was the real killer of his wife.

As if this were not trouble enough, he immediately gets involved with a troubled, pretty piano player in a third-rate saloon. She is also being chased by her sadistic, psychotic husband. That is a lot of plot. Anyway the thing wound up with a shoot-out at the end. The hunted man slipped away into the shadows for another adventure next week in another town.

Both shows should be very popular.

New programs due to arrive tonight—both on ABC—are "The Patty Duke Show," (8-8:30 EDT) in which the young star plays two roles and "Channing," (10-11) set in a university town and primarily concerned with the lives of two teachers played by Henry Jones and Jason Evers.

Plans to Visit U.S. Regardless

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—South Viet Nam's first lady, Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, said today she will visit the United States next month, but doesn't plan to see President Kennedy or any other officials.

As to how long she'll stay, Mrs. Nhu told newsmen "it depends on my whim."

Mrs. Nhu, sister-in-law of President Ngo Dinh Diem, has been leading her country's delegation to the interparliamentary union here. Much of her time has been spent explaining her government's position in the war against Communist Viet Cong guerrillas and its relations with the Buddhists.

Anniston Library Is Desegregated

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP)—The Anniston public library has been desegregated by two Negro ministers, one of whom was beaten by a mob of white persons in an earlier integration attempt.

Three city officials Monday accompanied the clergymen, the Revs. G.E. Smitherman and W.B. McClain.

The Rev. Mr. McClain and the Rev. Quintus Reynolds were attacked Sunday when they tried to enter the previously white library. Police said about 100 white persons were in the crowd. At least one of the attackers struck the men with a length of chain, police said.

The NIGHT, The WOMAN

THE STORY: Right after Valerie Hayward leaves Blake Carden's law office voicing vague threats, Lee Barcello, a police detective calls to ask Blake "a few questions."

IV

Detective Lieutenant Lee Barcello — the Lee was short for Leopoldo — was assigned to the county prosecutor's office as special investigator. He came in quietly, with a warm and easy smile, a straight, broad-shouldered, tall man with the rich dark coloring of his pure-blooded Spanish ancestors. His eyes were a deep, velvety black-brown. He clasped Blake's hand gently. He said, "Beautiful office, Mr. Carden; beautiful view." A man of disciplined but unaffected formality, he remained standing until Blake invited him to sit.

"What brings you to the beach, Lee?"

"You're on my list, Mr. Carden," Barcello's soft voice belonged with the rest of him. "That is to say, a list of clients who have done business with Masters-Stowell and Company, in St. Pete. You know them, the stockbrokers?"

"Not as a client. I'm settling the estate of a man named Alec Hayward who was."

Barcello nodded pleasantly. "So you probably know George Gibbon. He was a customer's man."

I dealt directly with Sam Masters. Sam's an old friend of my father's. I never met George Gibbon there, not personally, but I know he handled the Hayward account. Anything irregular about it, Lee?"

"No, nothing like that. Mr. Hayward's account is perfectly in order. So are all the other accounts. Mr. Gibbon handled." His dark eyes were on Blake's. "Is Mrs. Hayward acquainted with him?"

It occurred to Blake that Barcello must have recognized Val during her dramatic exit.

At the time of Alec's death, and also on various social occasions, the local newspaper had printed her picture and Barcello was known for his photographic memory.

"She couldn't know anyone at Masters-Stowell. Her husband did the investing, if investing is the name for it. He played with carloads of penny-ante stocks in a way she didn't even try to understand. She has never needed to have any first-hand dealings with a broker."

"I see. That saves me a little leg work. I won't have to check with her."

Barcello was stirring Blake's curiosity. "You've been speaking of this man Gibbon in the past tense. Is he dead?"

"Just missing. Mr. Carden. He committed a little grand larceny and took off. I'm looking for him."

"So close to home?"

"He's been under cover somewhere along the beaches for most of the past three weeks."

Barcello removed a small photo portrait from his shirt pocket and held it toward Blake. Gibbon's face was square and flat. It seemed to say he was timid, slow-witted, and aware of it. He felt oppressed; the sad look in his eyes was that of a caged animal defeated by his bars. Yet there was a slightly sinister cast to his features, a warning hint that this was a man who might reach a limit of endurance and suddenly break loose — as, evidently, he had.

"Have you seen him, Mr. Carden?"

Blake could say positively, "No, never."

Barcello accepted the answer easily. "Thank you. I won't keep you from your work any longer." He was rising.

"Just a minute, Lee." For the second time within half an hour Blake was puzzled by the motivation of a visit. "So a man named Gibbon stole some money from his employers and skipped. This has no bearing on any of the accounts he'd handled; they're all perfectly okay. Yet you're trying to find a lead to him by looking up his old customers, including Alec Hayward, who is four months dead. Could you fill me in?"

Barcello subsided into the chair, seeming pleased by the opening. "Without going into too many details, I'd like to give you the over-all picture. It might be helpful later. Gibbon is a fairly peculiar case. He was an upright citizen until he tripped — stuffy, even — and since then he hasn't been behaving according to pattern. The amount he stole is small, as loot goes — around $1,500 — and he promises to make restitution, provided he'll be forgiven."

"Gibbon simply lifted the cash out of Master-Stowell's safe. That same night, before anybody in the office had found out about the theft, he packed up and left the cottage in Gulfport where he'd been living with his widowed mother for years. She was asleep when he decamped. He'd never married, he's his mother's only support, and she hasn't seen him since."

A Girl's Room Grows Up

Easy-care white, vinyl floor covering is doubly practical for a little girl's growing-up room, because it is playproof and takes to more sophisticated color schemes later. Here it teams with a soft-as-a-cloud pink area rug of acrylic fiber which is completely mothproof and non-allergenic. Sponging with cold water and detergent banishes rug spots.

Budget stretching ideas include a pint-size canopy which is really a window cornice held to the wall with brackets. Cotton trimming by the yard decorates the mirror and lampshade, and adds a custom look to the dry-dry curtains for canopy and window. A wall panel of washable self-adhesive vinyl plastic in a rose pattern pinch-hits for a ceiling-high "headboard." The space-saving bed is a firm urethane foam mattress on a frame supported box spring. The cornice and chest of drawers are also protected and decorated with self-adhesive vinyl. To teach a youngster to find her own clothes, the drawer fronts are different colors.

Flower print blanket of acrylic fiber, used as a bed spread, and the polished cotton dust ruffle require no pampering. They go into the automatic washer, as does the youngster's personal laundry, with detergent and dry chlorine bleach. Fabric safe, the dry chlorine bleach keeps white startling white and colors sparkling bright.

clared a state of emergency in Jefferson County, which includes both Beaumont and Port Arthur. They dispatched trucks in answer to a growing number of appeals for help in fleeing soggy homes. It took boats to reach a few.

More than 14 inches of rain had fallen in Beaumont. The Weather Bureau said there might be another foot before the downpours ceased.

Conditions were similar, but apparently not quite as serious, at Port Arthur and Orange. With Beaumont, those cities form a teeming center of petrochemical industry and shipping.

Torrents likewise drenched the southwest corner of Louisiana, tapering into steady, soaking rains northward on both sides of the Texas-Louisiana line.

The Weather Bureau said remnants of the hurricane stalled over the Beaumont area, creating a low pressure system which set off the heavy rains. Winds which hit 80 miles per hour as Cindy reached the coast subsided, however, to between 20 and 40 m.p.h.

Officials opened all Beaumont schools to house flood refugees.

Rescuers helped householders to higher ground from two neighborhoods at Amelia, a Beaumont suburb. Water filled most Beaumont streets, blocking some of them, and it lapped into stores in lower sections of the city.

Hurricane Cindy, described by weather experts as a poorly organized storm, lost most of its punch almost as soon as it crossed the coastline between Port Arthur and Galveston.

About 3,600 evacuees in Texas and 10,000 in Louisiana's neighboring Cameron Parish were told it was safe to return home within an hour after the hurricane reached land.

There was widespread minor damage but no serious property destruction to mark the hurricane's passing.

U.S., Soviet Tension Has Eased Some

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — About the only consolation for President Kennedy in these troubled days at home and abroad is that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has climbed down off his back for a while.

Khrushchev's time is taken up with Red China, while Kennedy tries to cope with racial troubles in this country, with getting Senate approval of a limited nuclear test-ban treaty, and with restoring sense and order in South Viet Nam.

The Soviets have treated the United States almost amiably, compared with the past, ever since this country and Britain signed the test-ban agreement with the Soviet Union in Moscow Aug. 5.

They have even been restrained about American racial disorders, although that's a subject made to measure for Communist propaganda. There can be any number of guesses about the reasons.

The Russians don't want to give Senate opponents of the treaty extra ammunition before the Senate approves or the Russians want a new era of better relations with this country because of their disaster with the Chinese.

The completely skeptical probably see in this Russian amiability of the test-ban agreement itself a cynical scheme to hypnotize the West into lowering its guard by giving it a false sense of peace and security.

But without any of those reasons there is another explanation for the Soviets' recently muted tones toward the West: the Soviet Union has its hands full with its former Chinese ally.

Since Aug. 5 the Soviet and Chinese attacks on each other—the Chinese denounced the test-ban—have become as hysterical as Soviet-Chinese attacks on the West used to be.

This Russian-Chinese split which would be plenty excuse for the Soviet Union to switch its major attention from West to East, is perhaps the greatest break for the Western world since the war.

The two giant Communist allies, working together, had the resources for endless mischief and perhaps unimaginable gains in every corner and continent on earth.

As rivals they may well cancel out their ambition to communize the world although it seems certain Red China will never stop, short of military defeat, trying to take over at least all of Asia.

Nevertheless, improved Russian-Western relations have their own dangers for the Western Allies: the possibility that, feeling the Soviet menace has slackened, they will lose their sense of interdependence and also split up.

French President Charles de Gaulle, consciously or not, may be reflecting exactly such a state of mind in his several acts of contrivance and painful individualism since the beginning of this year.

When the danger from the Soviet Union seemed greater than it does now, De Gaulle was far less intransigent and unpredictable. He began irritating this country solely after the United States forced Khrushchev to back down on his Cuba missiles.

After that crisis subsided State Department people here began developing a kind of diplomatic euphoria with predictions that winds of change were sweeping

One Cake But Many Candles

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — "We'll have one cake, but probably three times as many candles," said William R. Elms after his wife, Virginia, gave birth to a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, weighing 6 pounds, 7 ounces.

All three share the same birthday—Sept. 17.

Mother and daughter are doing fine at Akron General Hospital after the blessed event Tuesday. Elms, 32, is a mechanical engineer. His wife is 30.

The couple's son, John, is an outsider in the family, at least as far as birthdays go. He'll be 5 on Oct. 18.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Sept. 19, the 262nd day of 1963. There are 103 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1859, composer Dan Emmett first sang his composition, "Dixie," at a performance by Brant's Minstrels in New York City. The tune was first used as a Confederate song at the inauguration of Jefferson Davis in 1861.

On this date In 1796, George Washington delivered his historic farewell address.

In 1870, the siege of Paris began in the Franco-Prussian War following the surrender of Versailles to the Germans.

In 1881, President James Garfield died in Elberon, N.J., of gunshot wounds inflicted by an assassin.

In 1934, Bruno Richard Hauptmann was arrested and charged with the kidnap-murder of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., and subsequently was executed.

In 1955, Argentine dictator Juan Peron was overthrown.

Ten years ago...Seven crewmen of an Air Force hurricane hunter plane were lost when the plane caught fire, crashed and sank 200 miles east of Charleston, S.C.

Five years ago...Soviet Premier Khrushchev warned the United States to withdraw its troops and ships from Taiwan or face expulsion by Chinese Communists.

One year ago...The Mississippi State Legislature adopted measures aimed at blocking the admission of Negro James H. Meredith to the University of Mississippi and a state court issued an injunction to the same effect.

the world although at that time last fall there wasn't a breeze blowing.

They couldn't and didn't foresee that by January De Gaulle would have messed up the Common Market by refusing to let Britain in or that by August there would be a test-ban agreement, signed with the Soviet Union.

For their part the Russians, at this moment, can hardly know where they are or where they are going with the Red Chinese whose menace to the Soviet Union will increase, and not diminish, as their power and weaponry increase.

U.S. Heiress Plans to Ask for Divorce

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — American heiress Gamble Benedict Porumbeanu hid out with friends today as her Romanian ex-chauveur husband flew in from New York to find out more about the divorce proceedings she started.

Andre Porumbeanu, 37, found their luxury villa at Erlenbach shuttered and locked, and three servants gone and their two sons concealed in an undisclosed private home.

Mrs. Porumbeanu, 22, charged Andre with misconduct. She had defied her family and courts to marry him.

Her Swiss lawyer, Eugene Curt, told newsmen of the heiress' decision to end her three-year-old marriage. He said Gamble, who was left the income from a $20 million trust of the Remington

Towns Off of Caution List

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The American Automobile Association has removed De Valls Bluff and Green Forest from its "caution" list for motorists, but the town of Ward, on Highway 67 near Beebe, has been added.

Frank Potter of Little Rock, general manager of the Arkansas Automobile Association, said Ward was put on the list because it has typewriter fortune, also has withdrawn powers of attorney her husband had held.

The couple's whirlwind romance from Long Island beaches to Paris night clubs drew worldwide headlines and bitter opposition from Mrs. Katherine Geddes Benedict, Gamble's grandmother, who called Porumbeanu a fortune hunter.

Gamble and her grandmother never were reconciled but Mrs. Benedict left Gamble the bulk of the family fortune at her death Oct. 29, 1961.

Viet Nam Claims Major Victory

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A communique from the South Viet Nam government said today it had scored a major victory Monday against Communist Viet Cong infiltrators at Long An — just 10 miles southwest of Saigon.

The communique said 122 Viet Cong were killed and 21 captured. It reported eight government soldiers killed and 31 wounded.

Newsmen were shown stacks of weapons captured from the Viet Cong, but no bodies. The government normally displays bodies of enemy dead to visiting newsmen following major engagements.

The only other Arkansas city on the list is Morrilton.

First Quints Report Home Was Sad One

NEW YORK (AP)—When Papa Dionne got his millionaire daughters away from the crown and Dr. Allan Datoe, he put them to work cleaning the bathrooms in the mansion he built with their money, the quints say in their autobiography.

"It was the saddest home we ever knew," they added.

The life story, as told to James Brough by the four remaining quintuplets — Annette, Yvonne, Marie and Cecile—appears in the current issue of McCall's magazine.

In it they tell how the secret of the fifth quintuplet's epilepsy (Emilie died after an attack in 1964) was carefully guarded because "the family considered her illness a shameful thing," and how the five little girls were made to feel set apart from the rest of the family, and filled with a sense of guilt.

Millions of eels swim along the Gulf Stream from their birthplace southwest of Bermuda to North America and Europe.

"If love begets love, guilt begets guilt," the 23-year-old quints said. "The air of the big house was thick with it. Mom and dad behaved toward each other as though they had been partners in some unspoken crime in bringing us into the world. We were drenched with a sense of having sinned from the hour of our birth."

The quints, who spent their first seven years in a special government-built and government-supervised nursery on the family farm at Callendar, Ontario, were "wards of his majesty" by an act of the Canadian Parliament and were cared for by a corps of nurses, teachers and guards superintended by Dr. Datoe, the country doctor who had delivered them.

They describe these early years as happy and carefree, but recall few pleasant memories of their life after they returned to the family — a victory for their father, Olive Dionne, after a long legal battle against Datoe.

"Dad wanted us and the quintuplet funds in his own exclusive custody," the sisters said. "In the beginning he needed money for the sake of the other children. But afterward, his fortunes improved, it made no difference. By then, it was a matter of self-esteem that he should win. We were such a prize."

Today, three of the quints are married and mothers and the fourth, Yvonne, is in a convent. Cecile, the wife of television technician Philippe Langlois, was the first of the quints to have a child. She now has three sons and a daughter. Two of the boys are twins.

Annette, whose husband, German Allard, is a finance company executive, has three sons, and Marie, wife of government clerk Florent Houle, has two daughters.

Bake A Better Breakfast Omelet

September is Better Breakfast Month, and there's no better time to set a good breakfast pattern than with the advent of school days. Mother knows best that breakfast is an important meal for school children (and adults!), and it's a wise discipline to follow after the lazy, hazy days of summer. Studies prove that when breakfast is skipped, work output is less, mental reactions are slower, and muscular fatigue increases.

Eggs are good breakfast fare as they're high in protein, and a delicious never-fail omelet made in the oven will feed four to six in a family. Bacon and milk are used along with the eggs so the omelet is extra nutritious, and Tabasco, the spicy liquid red pepper, seasons the dish "just so." Every good cook knows the bland flavor of eggs needs Tabasco, and the liquid seasoning is ideal in egg cookery as it blends smoothly and invisibly into the beaten egg mixture.

The omelet takes about a half hour to bake and requires no attention, giving you ample time to set the breakfast table and prepare toast and juice. If you're serving tomato juice, stir in a few drops of Tabasco for extra zip.

Oven Omelet

8 slices bacon 1 teaspoon salt

5 eggs 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco

3 tablespoons flour 2 cups milk

Parsley (optional)

Cook bacon; drain and crumble into bits. While bacon is cooking, prepare eggs. Beat eggs until light and foamy. Beat in flour, salt and Tabasco. Add milk and beat again. Grease bottom of 1-quart casserole with bacon drippings. Sprinkle crumbled bacon over bottom of pan. Add egg mixture. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) 30 to 35 minutes until egg mixture is set. Garnish with parsley if desired and serve immediately. YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

Uses TV to Put Across His Ideas

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has made a lot of use of television to get his ideas across, particularly in tight spots. But he has been reluctant to pitch for popular support in building a fire under Congress.

Last night was one of the exceptions when he appeals nationwide on television and radio for a tax cut which had been his No. 1 project for 1963 until he got tangled up in fights over civil rights and a limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

He made a similar television talk last year in behalf of his program of medical care for the aged, but two months later the Senate killed the program and Kennedy hasn't said much about it since.

Chances are he won't have any better luck on a tax cut. The House begins debating it next week and probably will pass it. But the whole thing comes to nothing unless the Senate also approves. There's doubt it will.

A big stumbling block is Sen. Harry Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee which handles tax legislation. He's dubious about cutting taxes while government spending exceeds income from taxes, as it does now.

Kennedy reasons that a tax cut will pep up the economy by giving corporations and individuals more money to spend and invest so that eventually the government will make up for a tax cut by collecting more taxes.

Byrd's committee, if the House approves the cut, may not start public hearings until mid-October or later. Even if uninterrupted they might last six weeks or until Dec. 1.

But if, in the meantime, the Senate gets into a long filibuster on Kennedy's civil rights bill, which seems certain, the tax hearings for all practical purposes would be suspended until the civil rights issue was settled.

The civil rights debate will be a long one. The House Ways and Means Committee, which is the Byrd committee's opposite number, last week approved a cut of $11 billion, but not all of it to take effect at once. It would start Jan. 1 and continue in pieces until 1965.

Kennedy has made more use of television than President Eisenhower to get his ideas out to the people directly, either through televised interviews, news conferences or direct talks to the nation on sticky subjects.

Last year his appeal for the medical care program was the only full-dress effort for legislation dangle in Congress, and he didn't do too well on that. He talked off the cuff and made some mistakes.

But on Oct. 22 he addressed the nation on the Cuban crisis, explaining the blockade he had ordered to force the Soviet Union to pull its missiles out of the island. In an hour-long interview on Dec. 17 he gave a report on his administration.

He talked about the state of the national economy on Aug. 13 and on nuclear testing and disarmament on March 2, when he announced this country was going to resume testing.

On Sept. 30 he reported to the nation on the use of U.S. marshals to compel Mississippi authorities to let James H. Meredith, a Negro, enter the state university.

The rioting mobs at Ole Miss either didn't listen to him or ignored him because, before that night was over two men were shot to death and Kennedy finally had to use troops.

In 1963 Kennedy has been interviewed on television, besides the usual quizzing at his news conferences, but has used fewer face-to-face talks with the nation than in 1962.

His main ones were June 11 and July 26. In June he talked on civil rights after he had to feder-

Iran Election Results Proclaimed

TEHRAN, Iran. (AP)—Results of Iran's long-delayed parliamentary election were proclaimed today as an endorsement of the Shah's land and other reform policies.

First returns in Tuesday's nationwide balloting pointed to victory by government-supported candidates for 230 seats in Parliament.

In a statement, Premier Assadullah Alam said that "live men and women voted, and unlike past elections, identity cards of dead persons or infants were not used by government riggers to obtain votes."

Among reforms sponsored by Shah was granting the right to vote to women.

Tough Civil Rights Bill Taking Shape

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tough civil rights bill was taking shape in the House Civil Rights subcommittee today although several key decisions are still to be made.

After months of hearings and weeks of closed discussions the subcommittee has put together a bill that is even stronger in some respects than the seven-part measure requested by President Kennedy.

The big question at the moment, however, is what the subcommittee will do about the administration's proposal for a ban on racial discrimination in places of public accommodation, regarded by many Negro leaders as the heart of the bill.

The proposal, which faces heavy Republican opposition, was put aside while the subcommittee worked on the other sections, but Tuesday it ran out of other sections. In a busy session it gave tentative approval to the remaining four provisions and is scheduled to finally come to grips with the public accommodations title today.

Another big decision that may be made today is whether to add a fair employment practices provision to the bill. Kennedy did not ask for it but a separate bill has been readied and it will be offered as an amendment to the bill.

State Fails to Get Very Much Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hurricane Cindy lost its punch so quickly Tuesday that it failed to push the heavy rains forecast for Arkansas into the state.

The low pressure system born from the hurricane was centered over Houston, Tex., today and it was expected to cause showers over most of Arkansas through Thursday.

Locally heavy amounts of rain were forecast for extreme Southwest Arkansas.

Temperatures remained mild, but a warming trend is expected toward the end of the week.

Tuesday's highs were in the mid 70s to high 80s and overnight lows ranged from a chilly 52 at Fayetteville to the upper 60s in the south. Today's highs and tonight's lows were expected to be in the same range.

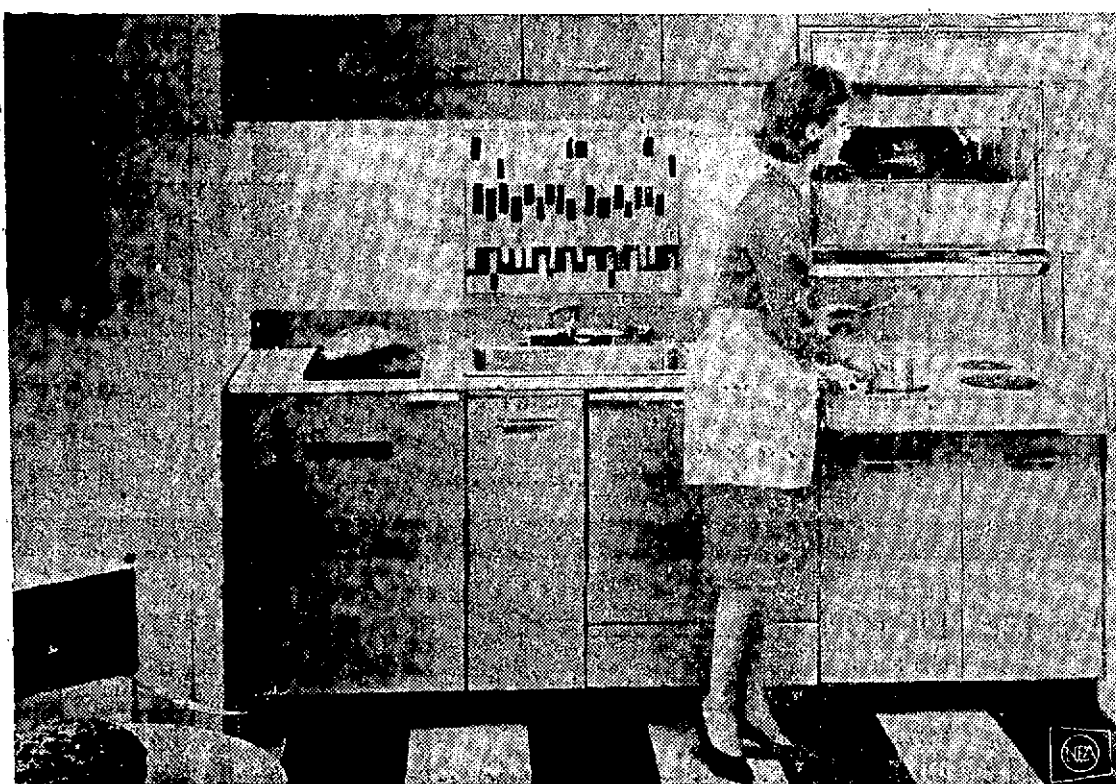

Rainfall reports during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today included .50 inch at El Dorado, .40 inch at Texarkana and .04 inch at Pine Bluff.

Saline Workers Are Paid Best

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Workers in Saline County received an average weekly wage of $93.03, the highest in the state, in 1962.

Figures released by the state Labor Department show Saline County workers average almost $10 a week more than workers in the second-place county, Union, where the weekly average is $83.18.

Ashley County is third with $81.12 and Pulaski fourth with $78.24.

The reports covers only workers who are covered by unemployment compensation insurance.

Buddhist Cuts Self in Protest

PARIS (AP) — In a protest against the South Viet Nam regime, a Buddhist sliced himself with a dagger Tuesday and with his own blood wrote a letter to the United Nations.

Nguyen Thanh Thai, who identified himself as secretary-general of the International Buddhist Federation, ceremoniously cut himself before a crowd of 300 in a Paris park.

He inflicted a superficial one-inch gash in his chest. An aide collected the blood in a cup. Dipping a brush into the blood, Thai wrote in large Vietnamese characters:

"In the name of the Vietnamese people, we denounce the crimes committed by the Ngo Dinh Diem government and demand an outright condemnation of the violation of human rights in South Viet Nam."

Space Load With Wings Is Sent Up

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The first American space payload with wings rocketed over a 9,000-mile-per-hour ballistic course today in a flight designed to check techniques for future maneuverable manned space craft.

The sleek, stub-winged payload, pushed skyward by a single stage Thor rocket, soared to an altitude of about 35 miles and then zipped back into the atmosphere to a splashdown in the Atlantic Ocean about 1,000 miles east of Cape Canaveral.

The Air Force reported that radio signals indicated the craft had flown its intended 20-minute course.

The launching was the first of six scheduled in the Air Force's project Asset, which stands for aerothermodynamic-elastic structural systems environmental tests.

Purpose of the Asset flights is to verify structural soundness of the spacecraft and to determine how well various materials withstand atmospheric re-entry heat up to 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The $34 million program will provide data for developing manned spacecraft which could return from orbit, maneuver over thousands of square miles to select an appropriate landing spot, then touch down on a jet field like an airplane.

2 tablespoons butter, melted
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Drain pineapple spears and reserve syrup. Marinate fish filets in syrup drained from pineapple for about 5 minutes. Turn filets in cracker crumbs and heat 1/2 inch vegetable oil in skillet. Cook fish until lightly browned on both sides. Meanwhile, saute and turn drained pineapple spears in a small amount of oil in skillet over medium heat. Arrange cooked fish on platter with the sauteed pineapple spears; add nuts and spoon melted butter over all. Sprinkle with chopped parsley. Makes 4 servings.

20 Million Chicks During August

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Commercial hatcheries in Arkansas produced 20,528,000 chicks during August, a six per cent increase over the same month a year ago, the Crop Reporting Service announced today.

Broiler-type chick production in August totaled 19,817,000 and the egg-type hatch accounted for 711,000 chicks. In the first eight months of 1963, 180,414,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas, five per cent more than during the same period of 1962.

The Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, in an interview Tuesday, said Gov. George Wallace nor anyone else could stop the march.

Shuttlesworth said it's definite that Negroes will march to protest a church bombing in Birmingham Sunday which left four Negro girls dead.

He said no details of the march have been decided.

Ben Bella Takes Over Algiers

ALGIERS (AP)—President Ahmed Ben Bella has taken his first step in his promised policy of nationalization by ordering the takeover of the three remaining privately owned newspapers in Algeria.

The papers were all owned by Frenchmen.

Ben Bella also told a meeting of the National Liberation Front (FLN) Tuesday that "privilege will be destroyed in Algeria" by 1964. He said millions of dollars in foreign bank accounts will be taken by the government and distributed to the poor.

GP Research at Crossett to Continue

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Georgia-Pacific Corp. has decided to continue research activities at its Crossett, Ark., Division.

Officials on the firm announced Tuesday that the Crossett Division would conduct research in pulp, paper and chemicals along with branches at Bellingham, Wash., Woodland, Me., and Toledo, Ore.

The decision ended a plan to centralize research at Portland. The company recently acquired Puget Sound Pulp & Timber Co. at Bellingham, with one of the world's finest research laboratories, and preferred to utilize it and laboratories at the three other divisions, rather than centralize operations at Portland.

Georgia-Pacific closed some 75 per cent of research work being conducted at the Crossett Division at the time, and no increase is expected in personnel, officials said.

The Crossett Division will specialize in research in quality control when the tissue paper plant is in operation and will also seek methods of making saleable products from waste liquors, including cellulose and lignins.

The division now produces oil, emulsifiers and bit lubricants for oil wells from such waste. It also produces acetic acid, turpentine and alcohol.

Will Ride Bull to World's Fair

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Jerry Cotten, 23, of Saginaw, climbed about his 1,535-pound Brahman bull, Bobo, and headed for New York and the World's Fair Tuesday.

The odyssey is expected to take them through 10 states and the District of Columbia. During the 8-month trip, Cotten and Bobo are expected to travel through Little Rock, Ark., Memphis, Tenn., and Washington en route to New York City.

Cotten raised the bull. They are expected to travel 15 miles a day, except in bad weather.

Cites Four-States Cooperation

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said Tuesday that Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma are beginning to cooperate for industrial, technical and recreational development of the area.

He said a recent proposal that a series of trails be developed to promote touring through the four states was an example of the kind of interstate cooperation the governors hoped to foster.

"We have the finest potential for future development in this part of the world," he said. "We have natural resources, we have a good supply of labor, and we have recreational facilities which make the area attractive to executives and workers alike."

Blytheville Plant Seeks Loss Relief

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Scott Valve Co. of Blytheville said Tuesday it has lost $100,000 in the last 11 months and cannot continue to operate without financial relief.

The firm filed a petition in federal district court at Little Rock seeking approval of a plan for paying its debts.

The plan provides that all unsecured creditors whose claims are less than 100 would be paid in full, and creditors whose claims are in excess of $100 can accept $100 in cash or 20 per cent of the amount due. The latter would be paid in 20 equal monthly installments, beginning three months after the plan is approved.

The company was built and equipped through a bond issue approved by Blytheville voters in 1961. The firm said that to remain in operation it would need a reduction in the rent on its plant, which is leased from the Blytheville Industrial Development Corp.

The lease, which runs 20 years, began March 15, 1961. The rent is $18,163.12 for each of the first three years, and $32,053.20 for each of the next 17 years. The petition called for a rent of $14,000 a year over a period of 25 years.

Rice Harvest Underway in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Combining of an expected record rice crop got into full swing in Arkansas this week and reported yields of 100 bushels or more per acre were common.

Between five and 20 per cent of the acreage has been harvested in many counties. Some rice is down in a number of fields but little loss of grain is expected.

Most cotton has cut out and about half of it is open in delta counties. Picking is in full swing, but only one-tenth of the crop has been harvested. Most of the picking is by hand and farmers were paying $2 to $3.50 per 100 pounds.

A few gins operated around the clock last week but most gins were on a part-time basis.

There was considerable boll rot in rank cotton in some southeast and east central counties. The state received additional showers but precipitation continued spotty and most northern and central counties need additional moisture for fall seeding and late maturing crops such as soybeans.

Soybean prospects varied. The best crops are in southeastern and east central counties due to irrigation and timely rains.

Damp weather in south Arkansas slowed corn and sorghum for grain harvest. Yields for both crops ranged from poor to good. The fruit harvest is virtually complete in Northwest Arkansas.

Cattle marketings were slowed where rains improved pastures in the east central and southern sections. But marketings continued heavy in dry localities.

Kilmer Oak Is Coming Down

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — Under gloomy skies and lightly falling rain, dismantlers began bringing down the majestic Kilmer oak today.

Workmen took down the small picket fence around the stately white oak and minutes later their chain saws were biting into the lower limbs of the tree that, according to some estimates, took root on the Rutgers University site 300 years ago.

Famous for the legend that it inspired poet Joyce Kilmer to write the oft-quoted 12-line poem "Trees," and still admired for its stately beauty, the tree succumbed after two years of unsuccessful treatment to keep it alive.

The dismantling is a day-long job — not a quick falling with an ax, but a limb-by-limb and trunk section-by-trunk section whittling down of the 68-foot-high oak. In maturity, its branch spread was a near-perfectly symmetrical 108 feet and its trunk 54 inches thick.

Governor Off to Missouri

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus left Little Rock early today for Independence, Mo., where he will participate in dedication of the 35th Infantry Division room in the Truman Library.

A small group of Arkansans accompanied him.

Faubus served in the 320th Infantry Regiment of the Division in World War II. Former President Harry Truman was attached to the 35th.

The governor took to Independence handsomely bound initial rosters of the 153rd Infantry Regiment and the 142nd Artillery, copied from state Military Department records.

Faubus will invite Truman to attend the annual reunion of the 35th Division, set Friday through Sunday at Little Rock.

Late Summer Delight

Choco Custard Parfait

So pretty! So light! So easy to make ahead of time! "Choco Custard Parfait" is a simple, old-fashioned custard poured over pieces of cream-filled chocolate cookies in parfait glasses. (Your stemmed water goblets can make lovely serving dishes, also.) Top with a pert red cherry, then refrigerate until ready to serve and you have a dainty dessert that's a refreshingly cool finale for any warm weather meal. Here's the easy way to make it:

Choco Custard Parfait

2 eggs
2/3 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon flour
1/16 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups scalded milk
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
12 Sunbrite Hydrox cookies
Maraschino cherries

Beat eggs well; stir in sugar well mixed with flour and salt. Add scalded milk slowly, stirring constantly. Cook in top of double boiler over hot (not boiling) water, stirring constantly until mixture is thick and satiny. Remove from heat, cool a bit and stir in almond extract. Coarsely break a Hydrox cookie into bottom of each of four parfait glasses; pour in some of the custard. Add another broken cookie around and top with sauce; repeat. Refrigerate until needed. Top with Maraschino cherries. Accompany with whole Hydrox cookies. Yield: 4 servings.
